REPARATIONS REPORT READY TO-MORROW

Paris, April 26.—To-day's session of the reparations sub-committee, which was to have considered the report of the reparations conference, was postponed, probably until to-morrow, as the preliminary work on the document was not far enough advanced for submission. Private conversations, however, continued.

LAND SALES SHOW GAINS

City Lands Department Sells More Land in First Quarter Than All Last Year

Eleven New Homes and Many Business Sites Involved in Recent Deals

Some twenty-eight parcels of land, assessed at $37,150, were sold by the City Lands Department in the first quarter of the year. It is shown in an analysis of the figures made available to-day. The price realized was more than the assessed value, being $37,405.

A feature of the sales was the number of business properties purchased. Six parcels of land in the business area, two in garage districts, one in the apartment zone, and one each for an auto camp and a bungalow camp, were sold for revenue production purposes.

Fifteen parcels were sold for residential purposes, and on these eleven new homes have been started since the first of the year. Handsome profits have been realized in more than one instance on properties sold at the city auction-sale of 1928 and 1929.

The figures, according to H. Kirkpatrick-Crockett, City Lands Commissioner, in response to queries to-day, were said to represent more than the total sales made by the City Lands Department for the full twelve months of last year.

ENTERS PLANE MANUFACTURING FIELD IN CANADA

WILLIAM E. BOEING

PLANE FACTORY IN VANCOUVER IS PLANNED

Seattle, April 26.—Entry of the largest airplane manufacturer and commercial air transport operator of the United States into the Canadian airplane manufacturing field was assured when Boeing Aircraft of Canada Limited announced the Hoffer-Beeching Shipyard in Vancouver, B.C., would be acquired by Boeing Aircraft of Canada Limited, preparatory to starting an airplane factory. The announcement, made by W. E. Boeing of Seattle, chairman of the board of the three United States Boeing companies, reveals Boeing intentions have been considering a Canadian factory for some time.

Boeing Aircraft of Canada proposes to put in an up-to-date airplane plant by increasing the present floor space at the shipyard from 30,000 to 60,000 square feet, with machinery necessary for building airplanes. Initial production, it is expected, will start on six-seater B-15 flying boats, a type now produced by Boeing at Seattle and a plane which is expected to have a good market in Canada. It is anticipated manufacturing activities will be expanded later to include production of land planes and fabrication of various types demanded by the Canadian market.

Stock in the Hoffer-Beeching shipyard will be exchanged for Boeing Aircraft of Canada stock. W. E. Boeing will be chairman of the board of the Canadian company, whose directors will consist of prominent British Columbia business men, as well as Henry S. Hoffer and C. G. Beeching, and representatives from the Boeing Airplane Company.

U. S. SAYS CIVIL AND ARMY FLYING ARE NOT LINKED

Geneva, April 26.—The United States joined with Germany to-day in insisting that limitation of military aeroplanes should not be based on the number of civil planes, which neighboring countries may possess.

Hugh S. Gibson, United States delegate, said he was convinced aviation would make big strides and he said it was absurd development of civil aviation in one country should be made the pretext by another for maintenance of a large number of planes.

After lengthy discussion action was postponed.

The announcement of Mr. Gibson came as a sensation to the conference, which had just listened to a sensational proposal from the Spanish delegation, asking establishment of an international force of "peace" aviators to be stationed at Geneva and placed at the disposal of the Council of the League of Nations.

ANZAC DAY MARKED ON BOARD SHIP

Impressive Ceremony Held on Deck of Liner Niagara Off Cape Flattery

Australians Eulogized by Major-General Browne of Imperial Army

Major-General H. T. P. Browne, British military veteran of the World War, was the principal figure of a dramatic event on board the liner Niagara off Cape Flattery.

It was an impressive moment at 11 o'clock yesterday morning when General Browne, before all the ship's passengers assembled on deck, contributed his oratory in celebration of Anzac Day.

The promenade deck of the liner was crowded as the Imperial army officer eulogized the heroic Australians who on April 25, 1915, landed on the Gallipoli Peninsula under the withering fire of the Turks and made history for Australia.

Anzac Day was yesterday celebrated by Australians and New Zealanders throughout the world, afloat and ashore.

PASSENGERS PARTICIPATED

The liner Niagara, of the Canadian-Australian Line, which reached Victoria last night from Sydney and Auckland, carried nearly five hundred passengers all told. Other nationals joined with the Australians in celebrating the great day.

When the Niagara was two hours from shore.

London, April 26.—The British Royal Air Force aeroplane in which two aviators sought to create a long distance flight record by making a non-stop journey from Cranwell, England, to Calcutta, landed at Karachi, India, at 1:15 p.m. British Summer time, it was announced here this afternoon by the Air Ministry.

The distance flown from England was about 4,100 miles and their flying time was fifty hours and forty-eight minutes.

Although the pilots failed to reach their intended destination, they made the first nonstop flight from England to India, and established a new British long distance record.

They passed over Karachi this afternoon, but returned about an hour later because of shortage of gasoline.

Squadron-Leader A. G. Jones-Williams, companion flight, was born near Vernon, B.C., in 1899. When he was two years of age his mother took him to England, his father having been killed. He is a World War veteran flier.

Two Commissioners Soon Will Arbitrate The I'm Alone Case

Washington, April 26.—Canada having accepted the United States proposal to submit the I'm Alone case to arbitration, it is pointed out here that the arbitration clause of the liquor treaty of 1924, under which the attempt will be made to settle points of difference regarding the sinking, provides that in the event the two persons nominated fail to agree upon a joint report, the case shall be referred to the claims commission set up by the agreement for the settling of outside claims signed by Great Britain and the United States in 1919. That agreement calls for three arbitrators, one of whom would be appointed by Canada, one by the United States and the third by a neutral country.

COUSIN OF LATE CZAR SUCCEDES

Former Grand Duke Michael of Russia Dies in London

London, April 26.—Former Grand Duke Michael of Russia, cousin of the late czar, died here this morning. He suffered an attack of influenza late in the winter which left him weak.

The former grand duke was for years a figure in London society and on the Riviera. He maintained a London residence and a villa at Cannes. In 1901 he contracted a morganatic marriage with Countess Torby at San Remo, and they lived together devotedly until her death in London in September, 1927.

Their two daughters married into the British nobility, one being Lady Zia Wenher and the other Countess Milford-Har. They also had a son, Count Michael Torby.

C.N.R. Western Manager in Victoria to Consider Industrial Reserve Plans

A step towards the carrying out of the order of the Board of Railway Commissioners for an interchange of C.P.R. and C.N.R. trucks for industries on the Songhees industrial reserve, was made to-day with the arrival of W. A. Kingsland, general manager of the western region of the Canadian National Railways, with headquarters at Winnipeg.

While in the city Mr. Kingsland will discuss with local officials plans for the transfer track recently ordered to be put in by the Board of Railway Commissioners, and he will also review the general programme of maintenance and improvements to right of way and structures which has been arranged for the year.

The order of the board was made on representations presented by the Victoria Chamber of Commerce first through a comprehensive brief prepared by C. P. W. Schwenger, when he was president of the chamber and later argued by R. W. Mayhew at the last sitting of the railway board in this city.

Mr. Kingsland is accompanied by J. R. Cameron, assistant general manager, Vancouver; H. A. Dixon, chief engineer; G. M. Hair, K.C., regional counsel; Dr. J. M. Lecky, assistant chief medical officer, and G. H. Leah, publicity representative, all of Winnipeg.

C.N.R. CAPITAL PLAN IS READY SAYS THORNTON

Dunning Says Comments at Next Session Will Deal With Financial Reorganization

Ottawa, April 26.—The Canadian National Railway officials' plan for reorganization of the system's financial structure has been completed. This announcement was made by Sir Henry Thornton, president, in answer to questions by Hon. H. H. Stevens, Conservative, Vancouver Centre, at to-day's session of the railways and shipping committee of the House of Commons.

Details of the statement have yet to be analyzed by the Federal Government and the necessary legislation prepared.

"I will be very much disappointed if the plan is not brought before parliament next session, and I am sure Sir Henry will be disappointed also," Hon. C. A. Dunning, Minister of Railways and Canals, assured the committee.

LISTED AS NON-ACTIVE

If an amount of $1,290,216,481.97 for mass deficits and other items classified under Canadian National liabilities as "non-active" is brought before the Federal Government account, the result would have very little effect on the net debt of Canada. A substantial part of that amount, Mr. Dunning explained, was now listed on the Government's books as non-active. The Montreal Terminals Bill called for an expenditure of $50,000,000. Mr. Dunning stated, while expenditures provided for this year would not be for more than $10,000,000.

FAMOUS SURGEON IS FOUND DEAD

Body of Frank C. Madden Discovered in Cairo, Egypt; Revolver in Hand

Cairo, Egypt, April 26.—The body of Dr. Frank C. Madden, one of the most widely known surgeons of the British Empire and dean of the faculty of medicine of the Egyptian University, was found to-day at his home with revolver in one hand.

Dr. Frank C. Madden was born March 2, 1873, in Melbourne, Australia. Following his course at the University of Melbourne, he went to St. Mary's Hospital in London, England, taking second class honors in medicine. He had published numerous papers on general surgical subjects in various medical journals.

GRAIN INQUIRY BRINGS PLEA FOR PEACE RAILWAY

Saskatchewan Commission Hears Views of Citizens of Prince Rupert District

Prince Rupert, April 26.—A plea for a railway line into the vast Peace River country in order that the grain from that region may reach Pacific tidewater by the most direct route was made before the Saskatchewan Grain Inquiry Commission at its opening session to-day. M. P. McCaffery, chairman of the grain section of the Prince Rupert Board of Trade, was the chief spokesman.

Considerable interest was shown by business men, who were represented from as far east as Prince George.

In addition to a direct rail route to the Peace River district, Mr. McCaffery urged Government action to ensure Prince Rupert securing the same rail rates on grain as are now enjoyed by Victoria, Vancouver and New Westminster. He claimed the rates figured out a half-cent higher on United Kingdom shipments from Prince Rupert than the Southern British Columbia ports. In spite of this handicap, he said, the northern port had handled 8,000,000 bushels of wheat to Europe in the last crop year.

ALIBI OFFERED BY CHOW KEE

Victoria Chinese Gives Defence at Trial on Murder Charge in Vancouver

Vancouver, April 26.—An alibi was the defence submitted to an assize court jury here to-day by Chow Kee, a Victoria Chinaman, for acquittal on a charge of attempting to murder his wife, Gladys Ing Ah Mun, here February 11 last, with a hatchet.

When the woman was struck down near the Chinese Theatre on Columbia Avenue, the accused, according to his own testimony, was playing mah jong with three Chinese in a house on Carrall Street.

Chow Kee denied molesting or communicating with his wife since they separated by agreement a year ago. He had retained custody of a four-year-old son, and she had paid him $300, he explained.

Loose Gun, interpreter and grocery salesman, was blamed by the accused for his matrimonial troubles. Gun, it was said, induced the wife to take a job as waitress in a chop suey house here.

The accused denied he had written August a letter demanding $1,000 from his wife and threatening her life.

NEW TREATY FOR NAUVES HOPE OF JOYNSON-HICKS

Home Secretary Says British Government Fully Supports Reduction Move

London, April 26 (Canadian Press Cable).—"We have set the example to the other nations of the world, but while we are willing to disarm and want to disarm, remember it is we who in the event of this land being invaded would be hanged from the lamp posts," said Sir William Joynson-Hicks, Home Secretary, in an address at Hounslow last evening, referring to the Government.

"Until nations come to an agreement—and I hope they are going to do so at Geneva this week," he went on, "we must maintain our responsibility for your safety."

"I take this opportunity of saying, however, that the Government warmly have welcomed the naval declaration of the United States, and we will do all we can to support their views."

Warrant in B.C. For Man Wanted By Texas Court

Vancouver, April 26.—At the request of H. S. Towell, United States consul here, and on the application of Oscar Orr, Judge H. S. Cayley, an extradition commissioner ordered a warrant issued for the arrest of David Dow McLarty, said to reside in Lillooet, B.C.

The charge against McLarty is that at Dallas, Texas, on December 10, 1927, he fraudulently concealed from the trustee in bankruptcy of the Nash Motor Company, which had been adjudicated bankrupt, certain personal property belonging to the company and consisting of money and merchandise to the amount of $4,337.

The information leading to the warrant was referred to Judge Cayley by Gerald B. Norris, special agent of the United States Department of Justice, at Seattle.

A warrant was outstanding in the United States for the arrest of the accused, it was stated.

McLarty came originally from Dallas.

SEARCH FOLLOWS ESCAPE OF MAN

Police in Saskatchewan Hunting For H. Griffiths, Who Dodged Prison

Saskatoon, April 26.—Harold Griffiths, alias Edwards, who escaped from a train last night that was taking him to Prince Albert to serve a three-year term in the penitentiary, has a record of burglary and armed robbery at Calgary and Winnipeg, according to information just received here from Prince Albert.

Griffiths is said to have a bad record and to have escaped once before from custody in Lethbridge. He served terms in Manitoba and Alberta, and his picture adorns the rogues' galleries in Prince Albert, Calgary, Edmonton and Winnipeg. He is said to be a dangerous character and steps for his recapture are being actively pursued in all police quarters in northern Saskatchewan.

Smaller Army Discussion Is Advanced Step

Geneva, April 26.—Hugh S. Gibson, United States disarmament spokesman, announced at the meeting of the Preparatory Commission on Disarmament here to-day that the United States would withdraw its reservation from the exclusion of trained reserves from any limitation of armies.

LACK OF TIRES STOPS CAMPBELL'S AUTO SPEED TESTS

Sherbrooke, P.Q., April 26.—Campbell, British racing driver, is unable to make further speed trials here as there are no tires left for his car, the Bluebird, which ripped its tires yesterday. He expects to return home next week.

Yesterday he made a record of 213 miles an hour for five miles and 211 miles an hour for five kilometres.

CANADA NOW SENDS MACARONI TO ORIENT

Vancouver, April 26.—Oriental preference for Canadian products is seen in two shipments of ten tons of macaroni, and approximately 10,000 automobile tires bound for Shanghai aboard the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Asia, May 9.

The carload of macaroni was manufactured at Lethbridge and shipped to Vancouver by the C.P.R. Coast.

An increase in the shipping of automobile tires of this type is also noticed, presumably on account of the greater auto sales and through the extreme heat in the Orient, which reduces the lifetime of an ordinary tire to about six months.

than the Government could see its way clear to supply. It was providing buildings where it considered the needs were most urgent.

A vote of $28,000 for the armory at Regina was discussed. Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, disagreed with the principle of paying for a building under a twenty-year payment plan instead of clearing it off by a capital expenditure. Mr. Bennett said the building had been erected by public subscription at a cost of $100,000. Now the Dominion of Canada contemplated paying nearly twice the price to take over the property.

PUBLIC SPIRITED CITIZENS

Hon. C. A. Dunning, Minister of Railways and Canals, remarked he did not think the criticism of the leader of the opposition entirely justified since the Regina armory was the outcome of a laudable public spirit, and if it had been built with Government funds, interest payments would have had to have been taken into consideration.

So far as the business feature was concerned, Mr. Dunning said, he was prepared to defend it anywhere. The Government had succeeded in getting it at a very low rate.

ALBERTA VOTES

Public works estimates for the Province of Alberta aggregating $686,700 were then considered, but at adjournment 11 p.m. only expenditures for the city of Calgary had been approved. Calgary expenditures include a $300,000 item for a public building in that city.

AUSTRALIA TO DISTILL OWN WHISKY

William H. Ross, Director of Distillers Co. Ltd., Opened Plant at Geelong

Liquor Will Be Produced From Australian-grown Barley

Australia is now distilling her own whisky from barley produced in the Commonwealth.

William H. Ross, managing director of Distillers Company Limited, capitalized at $75,000,000 and controlling upwards of sixty distilleries in Britain, who reached Victoria last night by the liner Niagara from Australia, made the announcement that the policy of his company was now being directed to the manufacture of liquor in the British Dominions.

When the Australian government placed a preference duty of nine shillings a gallon in favor of the local product, the Distillers Company, in order not to endanger its Australian imports, decided to establish a distillery in the Commonwealth for the production of a high-class Australian brand of liquor for home consumption.

HEAT AT GEELONG

This distillery was built at Geelong, situated about forty miles from Melbourne in the State of Victoria, and was opened on March 21 last.

Mr. Ross made a special trip to Australia to be present at the opening of the distillery, and the commercial centre of China, which is now returning by Mrs. Ross to their home in Edinburgh.

By the establishment of this distillery we propose to produce and cater direct to the Australian trade," said Mr. Ross at the Empress Hotel this morning.

"It will be an enormous advantage to us, and as it will be possible to produce whisky more cheaply and with no benefit to the Australian consumer."

"The capacity of the Geelong distillery will be three-quarters of a million gallons a year, but we do not expect to utilize the plant to its fullest capacity for some time to come."

Australian grown barley will be exclusively used in the manufacture of the Geelong product, Mr. Ross stated.

CONTROL CANADIAN FLAX

In establishing a distillery in Australia the Distillers Company Limited is following out its policy of operating distilleries in Canada, it was pointed out by Mr. Ross.

The company, he said, was jointly interested with Canadian interests in plants at Montreal, Que., and at Peterborough, Ont. The Montreal plant is operated by the Distillers Corporation of Canada and the Waterloo distillery by Segrams.

After five years of drought, Australia this season has experienced plenty of rain and the most prosperous year of the country was predicted, according to Mr. Ross.

TIMBER STRIKE
When he left Sydney, however, Australia was in the throes of another strike.

A working week of forty-eight hours for the timber workers downed by the Arbitration Council as against a forty-four hour week, and immediately this was done, the timber workers' strike was on.

Mr. Ross went out to Australia by the P. and O. Line via the Panama Canal and is returning home via Canada.

He expects to spend a short time in Montreal before setting sail for Scotland.

ARCTIC REGION SAFEST FOR TRANSOCEAN TRAVEL BY AIR, SAYS STEFANSSON

New York, April 26.—Within ten years commercial airplane and ship lines will ply weekly schedules between the chief cities of America and Europe, says the Arctic explorer, and Japan by way of the Arctic regions, asserts Vilhjalmur Stefansson in the May issue of The Red Book magazine.

The North Pole is one of the easiest points on the globe to be reached by air, says the famous explorer, and he foresees within a decade "ten-day expeditions with Pullman-car comfort" to the North or South Pole at an average cost per person of $1,000, and round trip journeys taking in both poles for $1,500.

The most promising possibilities of the far North lie in the development of commercial air lines between the Old World and New through that region, with a saving of time and a minimum of danger. In fact, Mr. Stefansson asserts, air routes over the frozen North are much safer than flying over the more southerly open waters. There is less danger from storms. Discomfort from cold is negligible. And, in case of accidents, more often than not safe landings can be made on the ice-fields. In refutation of Amundsen, who doubted the safety of landing on ice-floes and who lost his life in the open water, Stefansson cites the experiences of many recent Arctic flyers as proving this. Their experience also corroborates the conclusion reached by Nansen during his expedition in 1893, that "the Arctic is less stormy, more placid, than any other equally large area of the world." The popular idea that the farther north you go, you find increasing cold, snow and storms, Stefansson says, is fallacious. Often the cold in the far North is no greater than that registered at a same period in Winter in the region of New York.

What the use of Arctic routes will mean in time-economy is indicated by the fact that 2,000 miles can be saved by flying north from New York straight for "Peeking Island" of going around either east or west. The shortest way from England to China lies north of the Arctic.

The Committee Meets to Decide Mother's Fate

"We would be glad, of course, to have mother come and live with us," says one of the sons. "But the trouble is our house is so small."

"We haven't a spare room," adds the daughter-in-law regretfully.

And so it goes. One after the other makes excuse. Each has his or her own problems, and responsibilities.

BRITISH BOY SETTLERS TO WORK FARMS

Forty Arrive in Winnipeg
Over C.N.R. Under Manitoba
Government Auspices

Winnipeg, Man., April 26.—Forty British boys, brought to Canada under the auspices of the Manitoba Government, arrived in Winnipeg last night over the Canadian National Railway.

Professor C. Hopper, of the Manitoba Agricultural College met the boys at Halifax and accompanied them to Winnipeg. This morning the boys were taken on an inspection tour of the Manitoba Agricultural College. They will be placed on farms in Manitoba.

FAMILIES ARRIVE
On the same train were fifty-eight British families and twenty single men. The husbands of thirty-five of the families are veterans of the great war and were brought to Canada by the British Empire Service League. The Canadian National Railway Colonization Department has a place for every one. Many settlers for the Dominion from the British Isles are included in the 5,379 individuals who will arrive at the week end on the train from the Quebec and Halifax toward the end of the week on steamers whose passengers will be transferred to the inland destinations by trains operated by the Canadian National Railway.

There are three parties of the British Minister of Labor, trainees, that is men who have received an intensive course in Canadian agricultural methods. Two of these groups will land at Quebec from the liners Athenia and the Regina, while the third party will arrive at Halifax on the Lancastria. Altogether there are 505 trainees bound for work on farms. There are also parties traveling under the auspices of the Ontario Government and the Salvation Army and juveniles brought out by the British Immigrant and Colonization Association as well as a large number organized through the overseas offices of the Canadian National Railway Colonization Department.

TWO COMMISSIONERS TO ARBITRATE THE 'M ALONE CASE

The United States coastguard authorities claim the schooner was ten-and-one-half miles offshore when hailed, and that she was capable of traveling more than thirteen knots an hour.

SPEED FELL OFF

The officers of the schooner claim they were more than ten-and-one-half miles from the shore, and that the best speed the schooner had ever obtained with a favorable gale and using both sails and engines was nine-and-one-half knots, and that at the time in question her maximum speed was much less than that.

Accordingly, the two Governments disagree as to whether the United States coastguard officials had any right to interfere with the 'M Alone when she was first hailed.

There is also disagreement as to the extent of the privileges under what is termed "the right of visitation."

The United States notes take the position that if the vessel is hailed within the distance set forth in the convention, the coastguard ships are permitted to follow and capture her regardless of the distance she has traveled in the meantime, provided the chase has been continuous and the pursuing vessel has kept the pursued ship in sight.

CHASED TOO FAR

The Canadian Government contends that to make use of the privileges of "hot pursuit" the vessel must be hailed within the territorial waters of three miles. It also contends the United States ships exceeded their rights even within the territorial waters of three miles, in pursuing the ship so far over the high seas.

With regard to the actual sinking of the vessel, the United States places the blame on the captain of the 'M Alone in not obeying the order of the coastguard officials. If he were in the right, the coastguard would have been able to obtain redress afterwards through legal and diplomatic courses. He should have submitted to seizure, the Washington Government says.

C.N.R. BRANCH BILLS APPROVED
Ottawa, April 26.—Two Canadian National Railway branch line bills were passed by the Commons yesterday afternoon. Consideration was given in committee of the whole to a bill amending the Railway Act to define the meaning of the Canadian National Railway for the purposes of the act.

ten and one-half miles off the coast of the United States. The Wolcott ordered the 'M Alone to heave to for boarding and examination, but this order was refused. When the second command was not complied with, the vessel was fired through the sails and rigging of the vessel. The Wolcott's gun jammed and it could not therefore stop the 'M Alone, but it kept in close pursuit and reported the incident to the commanding officer of the coastguard base at Passagoula, Mississippi, who dispatched the vessels Dexter and Dallas to assist the Wolcott.

ALWAYS IN SIGHT

"The Wolcott continued the pursuit of the 'M Alone and, according to statement of the appropriate authorities, was at all times within sight of it. The coastguard vessel Dexter overhauled the Wolcott close up with the 'M Alone about 8 p.m. on March 22 with the latter vessel heading toward Yucatan. The commander of the Dexter ordered the 'M Alone to heave to, but the master of the latter vessel refused saying he would be sunk rather than stop."

After telling of the Dexter's shelling of the schooner, the note says:

"The 'M Alone sank about 9 a.m. on March 23 at latitude 25 degrees, 41 minutes and longitude 90 degrees, 41 minutes. The coastguard vessel picked up the members of the crew of the 'M Alone with the exception of one person, who was drowned. When the body of this seaman was taken from the water, the members of the coastguard worked for more than two and one-half hours in an attempt to resuscitate him but without avail."

NOT AUTHORIZED

In its note of April 8 the Canadian Government says: "The conclusion has been reluctantly reached that, on the evidence now available, the pursuit and sinking of the vessel appears not to have been authorized either by the terms of the convention of January, 1924, or by the rules of international law."

"It appears to be established that the vessel was at all times beyond the limit of an hour's sailing distance from the shore."

"It is further to be noted that the cutter which sank the schooner had not participated in the original pursuit, but had come up from an entirely different direction, two days later. Under these circumstances, the most essential elements of justification under the doctrine of hot pursuit appear to be lacking."

WITH LOSS OF LIFE

The Canadian note of April 8 contends the language of the 1924 Treaty is not such as "would warrant action as drastic as the destruction, still less does authority appear to be conferred for the destruction of a vessel by shell fire on the high seas, accompanied by loss of life, after a pursuit lasting for two days."

NO THREATS MADE

The Canadian note adds that Captain Randall denied that he had ever threatened to use force if an attempt were made to board his ship, or that he had flourished a revolver at any time during the pursuit.

HOT PURSUIT

The United States note in reply sets forth that the duration of the pursuit is immaterial provided the other elements of hot pursuit are present.

With respect to the objection that the Wolcott, the original pursuing vessel, was not the one which sank the 'M Alone, the United States note points out that the Wolcott and the Dexter were "operating conjointly as a unit of the same force, and under one command."

MEANT TO SINK SHIP

The intention of the United States coastguard vessel Dexter when she joined in the pursuit of the 'M Alone was clearly to sink the vessel, the Canadian note in reply sets forth. The Dexter did join in the pursuit "merely with the intention of rendering her helpless, as might have been done, for example, by crippling her rudder."

The result had been "that the vessel was deliberately sunk and the crew plunged into the sea in imminent peril of drowning, with the result, in fact, of the death of one member of the crew."

To this, the United States replies that "the captain of the 'M Alone could at any time have signaled his readiness to comply with the coastguard's request, thus putting an end to any danger either to his vessel or to himself and his crew."

CASE OF SLOAN

"In this connection, it may not be amiss to recall the case of the United States vessel Sloan, which, on May 24, 1928, was found by the Canadian preventive vessel Malaspina in the vicinity of Bolander Island, off the coast of British Columbia."

While there was some disagreement as to the facts in this case, it is undeniable that an American fishing schooner was sunk and a member of the crew was killed by rifle fire from the Canadian vessel while the Canadian vessel was trying to enforce its police powers.

The British Embassy transmitted two copies of the departmental report on the incident, and the department answered these notes without protest or comment. Regardless of where the pursuit of the Sloan began, it can scarcely be denied that the degree of force exercised by a preventive vessel of your Government in an effort to compel obedience to its authority in this case constitutes a striking parallel to that employed by the coastguard in endeavoring to force the 'M Alone to stop."

After dealing with other angles of the sinking of the 'M Alone, the United States note concludes: "If your Government, however, after a careful examination of this note, still finds itself unable to concur in the findings of fact and the conclusions of law set forth herein, the Government of the United States will gladly agree to submit the matter to arbitration as provided for in Article IV of the convention between the United States and His Britannic Majesty of January 23, 1924."

NOT IN AGREEMENT

The final note from Mr. Massey dated April 24, sets in part: "The Canadian Government appreciates the full and reasoned statement which you have presented the facts of the case and the principles of international law bearing on the case as they appear to the Government of the United States. They regret, however, their inability to concur in the procedure to be adopted to this end."

ing vessel Sloan is cited as a parallel. Without taking the ground that the procedure of the Canadian preventive vessel Malaspina on that occasion was absolutely without fault, it may be observed that the two cases appear to present essential differences. The Sloan was found and pursued within Canadian territorial waters. Upon repeated requests to heave to, and after threatening action on the part of the captain of the Sloan, the Malaspina fired shells around the vessel. Later, rifles were used with the object of disabling the steering gear and one shot unfortunately killed a sailor of the Sloan. The vessel, however, was not sunk by shellfire, but apparently was scuttled by her crew....

I shall be prepared to discuss with you at your convenience the procedure to be adopted to this end."

Aeroplane Display In Ontario Is Planned

Belleville, Ont., April 26 (Canadian Press).—Plans for one of the most attractive exhibitions by aircraft held in Canada are included in the draft programme for the United Empire Loyalist celebration to be held at Deseronto, Ont., July 18 to 19. The Federal Government has consented to several aeroplanes to the celebration. Premier King and the Ontario Premier have been invited to the celebration.

The first day of the celebration, Sunday, July 18, will be quickly observed in the churches, where it is expected a number of Loyalist clergymen will fill pulpits in Deseronto that Sunday. Monday, June 17, has been set apart as a military day, the sub-committee in charge of arrangements planning to hold a display in which a Toronto regiment and several other regiments from this district will be asked to participate.

ment will be laid on Tuesday, June 18, and the following day a pilgrimage will be made by automobile to the old church at Adolphustown, built by the United Empire Loyals in 1792 on Paul Huff's farm. A public gathering will be held in the church, the land being given by Paul Huff.

Tired Nerves and Heavy Head

So many women complain of both. Nerves are all unstrung. Restless and irritable. Can't sleep well. Get up in the morning without that feeling of freshness and cheerfulness that a good night's sleep should bring. Usually, this unhappy condition is the result of a number of little things, rather than one serious ailment.

Indigestion, sour stomach, biliousness, lazy liver, constipation—these are the usual things that upset the nerves, make the head ache and keep you feeling miserable.

And these are the troubles that

Abbey's corrects so quickly. Just a glass in the morning is sufficient to sweeten the stomach, clean the system of waste, neutralize acidity, send pure, rich blood flowing through the body and put your whole system in an orderly natural condition.

TO AVOID TRAVEL DELAYS

London, April 26 (Canadian Press Cable)—In view of a further simplification of the French smallpox regulations, special police inspectors are being installed at once on the mail steamers traveling from Dover and Folkestone to France to hand unvaccinated travelers sanitary passports during the journey denoting sanitation. In this way it is hoped there will be no delay on landing.

THIRTY MILLS CONTINUES AS SAANICH LEVY

Council Awards Rural Wards Increased Road Maintenance Funds

Protests of Inadequacy of Funds Mark Adoption of Reeve's Schedule

Amid a chorus of complaints of inadequate road maintenance appropriations, the Saanich council last night struck the tax rate for the year at thirty mills, with $57,000 allocated for road work in the wards. This means there will be no change in the mill rate this year.

The levy of thirty mills will be collected on full land values and on fifteen per cent of the assessed value of improvements. The rate includes 10.41 mills for schools, 5.32 mills for debt and 14.27 mills for general purposes.

The statutory penalty for non-payment will be imposed in three instalments of five per cent each, on October 11, 21 and 31 respectively.

The motion was opposed by Councillors Watson, Hagan and Borden, who asked their votes be recorded.

Reeve William Crouch was supported in proposals that the council abandon equality in ward road maintenance appropriations. He recommended that Wards Four and Six be allotted $9,000 each, Ward Five be allotted $8,000 and the other four wards each receive $7,750 for the year's work.

The total road fund, in his opinion, should be limited to $57,000, and the mill rate struck at last year's levy of thirty mills.

FAVORED PAYING
Councillor Hagan protested that Verdier Avenue should be permanently paved, the Saanich share of half the cost being borne by the municipality instead of charged against Ward Six.

"If the people insist on having roads they must be paid for, and if no other way exists, the mill rate must be increased. There is no use skimping the work," remarked Councillor Stubbs.

Councillor Hagan offered to pay $2,500 from Ward Six funds toward paving Verdier Avenue if general revenue provided $2,500. The cost of $10,000 would be shared equally by the Provincial Public Works Department, he pointed out, stressing the provincial character of the traffic served.

Councillor Stubbs said "all the main roads should be taken care of from general revenue," and objected to continuation of the ward system in regard to the major highways.

HEAVY DRAIN
Councillor Eden pointed out that the Province this year would spend $10,000 on the Gorge Road, of which $2,500 would have to be provided from the ward fund of $7,750. "It is not much I will have left to take care of all the other roads in the ward," he commented.

Councillor Borden said Ward One was badly treated, as it had much mileage of roads and sidewalk to provide for from the small sum allotted.

BRIGHTER OUTLOOK
Councillor Oldfield preferred permanent work, but in view of the easier situation next year, when sinking funds for bond issues will be abolished, he moved adoption of the distribution and a rate of thirty mills, as suggested by Reeve Crouch.

Councillor Stubbs seconded the motion to bring it to a vote.

OAK BAY NEEDS TRAFFIC SIGNS

Chief of Police Recommends Modern Signs Be Installed Immediately Near Schools

Oak Bay is badly in need of several new signs in the vicinity of its schools, members of the Oak Bay council were told last night at their regular meeting by Chief of Police John Syme, who has been making an investigation into the matter.

Signs are already posted in front of the High School on Oak Bay Avenue, near St. Michael's and St. Christopher's private schools, and at Monterey and Willows Schools. All the signs except those for the Willows School, on Cadboro Bay Road, are in need of paint, the chief said.

He deemed it advisable to have additional signs placed on Oak Bay Avenue for traffic routed west, on Monterey Avenue facing traffic north-bound, and, as a further measure of safety, signs could be placed on Oliver Street, covering Monterey School, where there is as much danger as on Monterey Avenue; also one on Cranmore Road to cover traffic between St. Ann Street and Cadboro Bay Road, which would take care of children crossing Hampshire and Cranmore Roads, and also include the new high school when it is built in September.

In his report Chief Syme strongly recommended that the B.C. Government sign, a triangle in yellow, with cross bar, indicating "school" and "ten miles per hour" with lettering in black, be used in preference to the older type.

Esquimalt Sports Days Are Fixed By School Board

Esquimalt school will again be strongly represented in the Victoria annual school sports to be held at the Willow on May 23, according to an announcement made at the Esquimalt School Board meeting in Lampson Street School last night.

Following their meet with the city schools, Esquimalt athletes will compete in their own district track events on the morning of May 24 at the Esquimalt Memorial Park grounds.

According to the general feeling of the trustees, the young athletes of the municipality should do exceptionally well in both meets.

The officers and members of Victoria Lodge No. 1, Columbia Lodge No. 2 and Dominion Lodge No. 4 will assemble at the headquarters on Douglas Street not later than 10:15 a.m. on Sunday in the lodge room where two officers will supervise the necessary arrangement regarding the position of members in parade; on completion of their duty, these will in their turn, report to the parade marshal, headed by the band of the Fifth Coast Service Artillery (by permission of Colonel Harris) the parade will move off at 10:30 o'clock sharp, being joined by the sisters of the Rebekah lodges at the corner of Bay and Douglas Streets, arriving at the church at 11 o'clock where an address, appropriate to the occasion, will be delivered by Brother the Rev. J. P. Westman.

The importance of this occasion has been recognized by the lodge at Duncan, and a delegation of members from this upland town will accompany the local members on the parade. Visiting brothers and sisters may accept this notice as a cordial invitation for them to attend the church service, and are requested to apply for regalia in person at the hall before 10:15 a.m.

Bandmaster Raines has kindly consented to conduct one band selection in the church.

Arrangements have been made to take care of members who may be unable to march in parade.

GOLDEN WEDDING WELL ATTENDED

Cheminus, April 26.—About 200 friends of Mr. and Mrs. John Sanders on Sunday afternoon attended the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding celebrated at their home in Wellington. Mr. Sanders married Miss Rebecca Sharp in Pennsylvania in 1878. A year later they came to Vancouver Island and have resided in Ladysmith, Nanaimo and Wellington since. During the afternoon four purses of gold were presented to Mr. and Mrs. Sanders. The purses were laid in the bottom of a gilded basket which was filled with golden roses and tied with a bow of yellow tulle. Refreshments were served in the dining-room and a three-tier wedding cake was cut by Mrs. Sanders. The rooms were decorated with gold and white streamers, daffodils, cherry blossoms, tulips and other Spring flowers. The door was opened for the many guests by a great-granddaughter of nine children, only a daughter living in Arizona was unable to attend. Those present were A. Sanders, Nanaimo; J. Sanders, Wellington; Mrs. J. Brown, Victoria; Mrs. W. Ashcroft, Vancouver; Mrs. C. Cornish, Nanaimo; Mrs. J. Holey, Seattle; Mrs. W. L. Work, Horse Lake, and Mrs. H. Huxco, Vancouver.

Ladysmith

Tuesday evening a whist drive was held under the auspices of the Pythian Sisters. Seven tables were in play. Winners were: First, Mrs. J. F. Patterson, and Mrs. W. Joyce (substitute); second, Mrs. A. FLYING SUIT HAS ELECTRIC HEAT

High in the clouds or over cold regions, aviators only have to press a button and warm themselves, if they are wearing this new electric suit, shown above worn by its inventor, Dr. B. E. Charles of Los Angeles. Within the leather outfit is a layer of copper wire mesh which is heated by means of a single wire plugged into the dashboard.

MENUS FOR THE FAMILY

By SISTER MARY
Breakfast—Winter pears, cereal, cream, fish hash, crisp toast, milk, coffee.
Luncheon—Tomato bouillon, rice salad, brown bread, floating island, milk, tea.
Dinner—Spare ribs and sauerkraut, mashed potatoes, celery, apple pie, milk, coffee.
There are several excellent brands of bouillon cubes and meat "extracts" on the market that mean a real saving of time and effort to a busy housewife. The commercial product is nourishing and delicious and all things considered quite as economical as the home-made variety.
RICE SALAD
One and one-half cups cold cooked rice, twelve large prunes, two oranges, four tablespoons French dressing, one-half cup mayonnaise, lettuce.
The rice should be carefully cooked, each kernel light and puffy, and the whole mass dry and fluffy. Wash the prunes through many waters and let stand over night in cold water to remove the bitter almond pit, but not broken or mushy. Remove stones and cut in half quarters. Peel over French dressing and let stand on ice for one hour. Combine rice with mayonnaise and add prepared prunes. Peel oranges and remove sections from covering membrane. Put a mound of rice mixture on each of four lettuce, surround with sections of oranges and serve.
This is an excellent salad for the children. Dates or raisins could be used in place of prunes.

V.O. Nurses Help Indians in Lonely B.C. Settlements

Indian children at the reserve near Oliver, B.C., are quite used to the sight of the Victorian Order nurse coming to visit them at stated intervals. Of course, some days during the past month the roads have been impassable, but when the nurse could possibly get through, she did.

Her programme at the reserve is a varied one, and her report for the month of March tells of visits to schools and ranches, bedside care to sick patients, children weighed and measured and referred to the doctor for correction of defects.

Oliver, in the heart of the fruit-growing district of British Columbia, is a community of about 100 Indians, having been opened just several months ago. The district is settled largely by ex-servicemen and their families, with an Indian reservation in the offing.

Mrs. Snipe: I wonder why Mand gave her age as twenty-five when she married that rich old man?

Mrs. Snaps: Oh, I suppose she made a discount for cash!

LO.D.E. REQUEST RE SCHOOL TEXT BOOKS REFUSED

Department of Education Will Not Place New Canadian Books in Schools

The request of the Municipal Chapter, L.O.D.E., for the introduction of certain Canadian text books in the public schools of the Province, including one written by D. L. McLaughlin, principal of the Victoria Normal School, has been refused by the Provincial Government, according to word received by the chapter at its meeting yesterday afternoon.

The letter from the Department of Education stated that it did not contemplate any change in the matter at the present time. The resolution asking for the change originated with the Dr. O. M. Jones Chapter.

Mrs. L. A. Jones presided at the meeting and a standing tribute was paid to the memory of the late Major J. H. Gillespie.

NATIONAL CHAPTER PLANS

Mrs. Genge was chosen as the chapter's delegate to the National Chapter meeting here in June. The chapter will entertain the delegates at tea in the grounds of "Molton Comb." by kind invitation of Mrs. Curtis Sampson on Thursday, May 30. Mrs. B. H. Tyrwhitt Drake will be the convener, assisted by Mrs. A. D. Musket, Mrs. K. Symons and Mrs. P. E. Corby. The Daisy Chain and Royal Bridge Chapters will have charge of the flower arrangements, sending a posy to each member of the national executive on arrival, and Mrs. E. Eve will be in charge of transportation.

Mrs. A. D. Musket, municipal standard-bearer, asked that all standard-bearers be at the cathedral on Sunday, May 26, at 2:30 sharp, to meet the national standard-bearer prior to the intercession service, also to be in the Empress Hotel palm room on May 27, at 7:15 p.m. All are requested to wear white. Full information on this matter can be had by telephoning. Plans were made for the usual children's patriotic service at Queen Victoria's statue on May 28, and a committee consisting of Mrs. Genge, Miss Cooke and Mrs. Corby were appointed to interview Municipal Inspector Deane on the matter.

The various resolutions coming up at the national annual meeting were discussed and the delegate instructed accordingly.

Among the correspondence read was a letter from Mrs. Hatfield, O.R.E. of London, England, sending greetings to her many friends in the order in which Mrs. P. B. Wright was appointed convener of prisoners of war committee.

DELEGATE'S REPORT

Mrs. Genge gave a very interesting report of the recent provincial annual meeting, which she attended as the chapter's delegate, and was accorded a hearty vote of thanks for same on the motion of Mrs. S. P. Moody and carried unanimously.

GIFTS TO SCHOOLS

Miss Cooke, editorial secretary, gave very satisfactory reports of all bursary holders. Presentations of libraries to schools had been made by Margaret Rocco Robertson, Equimait, and Florence Nightingale Chapters. Gonaules Chapter had given thirty copies of "Letters to Hilary" to Monterey Avenue School on St. George's Day. The Commodore Broughton Chapter also have decided to donate a library and subscribe to secondary education. Mrs. C. Cummins reported a decided improvement in Echoes subscribers and urged all members to support this very worth while publication.

Mrs. M. Appleby reported that the soldiers' plot, cross of sacrifice and naval tablet at Ross Bay Cemetery had been very beautifully decorated by Camosun Chapter at Easter, and during the month of April. Mrs. Miles, child welfare, thanked the Bishop of Victoria for the layette they sent, and for which she had already found a recipient. Mrs. McKicking, organizing secretary, said she had many new schemes in view, which she hoped to use in the near future.

Canadians To Take New Plane Training

Boston, April 26.—The course in aviation inaugurated by the University Extension of the Massachusetts State Department of Education is open not only to the other states in the union and United States possessions, but to residents of Canada as well.

In less than a month more than 400 inquiries have been received regarding the correspondence course. The aeronautic course is the only one of its kind offered by a public institution.

It includes the topics covered by the United States Department of Commerce for mechanics and pilots' licenses and is equivalent to the ground school technical training usually given to candidates for pilots' and mechanics' positions.

Elementary aeronautics, the aeroplane engine, structure and rigging of an aeroplane, aeroplane design and air transportation are the subjects listed, aside from the preparatory studies.

In the event of too many applying for the course to be accommodated, it is announced, Massachusetts residents will be given first consideration. All inquiries about the course or any of the 200 correspondence courses furnished by the department should be referred to University Extension, State House, Boston.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDERED

Mrs. Eldered will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

ORDER SHOULD BE TAUGHT TO CHILDREN IN EASY STAGES

The orderly housewife is apt to find her disposition shattered when she has to live in a home with small children. She wants to pick up after them all day long, she is sure they ought to be taught to pick up after themselves, and it isn't very pleasant to be constantly engaged in putting things away.

The small baby is engaged all day long in playing. It is the most serious concern of his life. If play is to be made interesting and increasingly instructive, it has to be made pleasant, and it isn't very pleasant to be constantly engaged in putting things away. The picking up process would soon become so annoying to the baby that he would refuse to play at all. The baby plays with his blocks for five minutes. Then he drops them in a heap and runs to his toy train. He is immersed in it for five minutes more. Then he stops and looks about and rushes back to the blocks again. One thing at a time, certainly, but that one thing never interests or holds the attention of a small child much longer than ten minutes. And if every time he dropped his blocks, he had to run and pile them on the shelf, he would soon stop playing with the blocks altogether. If left on the floor he will come back again and again to them.

If he has a playroom, having toys about isn't so annoying to mother. But if the living room is baby's playroom, that really isn't baby's fault, and it must be treated exactly as one would treat a playroom if baby had one. In any home where there are children, there should be low shelves, or a low cupboard or a big box to be shoved out of sight at night that is just for baby's toys. From the time he is able to run around he must realize that toys must be put away for the night when one is through playing. Blocks must be thrown into the box or piled on the shelves, and books picked up and dolly stowed away in her carriage. If mother is wise, she'll begin this picking up process before baby gets tired and cross. An hour before the dinner hour the room can be cleared, mother helping and making an enjoyable game of putting the toys to bed for the night. Then baby can be undressed, popped into the tub, slipped into her nightgown and bathrobe and given some quiet game to play with—one that won't upset the room again. The habit of putting toys away at night, the habit of putting them in the same place are the habits we wish to establish, and in establishing any type of habit, the pleasanter we make it for the baby the more likely he will be to continue and solidify it.

CHILDREN PHOTOGRAPHED AT HOME LOOK HAPPIER

By Florence La Gankle

Just before Nancy and Peter started South she had a photographer come to the house to take some pictures of Peter Junior, of Joan and of herself. She knew that babies sensed strange surroundings and were upset by them. For that reason she did not take the children to the photographer's studio. Here at home with his many familiar pillows and with his cousin Joan, the baby was his own sunny self. He did not need to be told to watch the little birdie, nor to look pleasant. Joan was not dressed up in party clothes, but wore a simple little dress she liked. It was smocked below the round yoke, buttoned part way down the front and trimmed with little round collar. The baby was put into one of his little dresses. He was nine months old, but being all dressed up was an ordeal he had seldom had to undergo.

The second picture was taken near a window in the Page home. Nancy chose a soft printed silk dress with no ornaments. Her choker necklace and plain earrings were her only jewelry. She sat easily on the window seat and held little Peter in her arms. He saw the man at the other end of the room and looked over in interested fashion after he had made sure that he was close to his mother. He wanted to feel her soft warm cheek up against his. He did not want to let his chubby little arm get very far away from his mother's head. They were such fun to play with. Peter took this photograph with him wherever he went and took it out many a time to look upon the two people who meant all the world to him. (Copyright, 1929, Publishers Syndicate)

MOTHERS AND THEIR CHILDREN

One Mother says: It was always hard to get children to bed at our house until we made a game of it. Five minutes ahead of time father sounds the whistle of the "Bedtime Steamboat" docking at the wharf. It never fails to delight. The youngsters have time to finish whatever they are doing and put toys away. Then they fall in line for their tickets which father tears from a piece of newspaper. Once safely in bed they give their tickets to the "conductor" who collects them with kisses. Sometimes the game is varied somewhat, but there is never any variation in the time it starts. Mr. Lesperance has already signed a contract with I. W. Aude, manager of the Crystal Garden, for the use of the building on the night of May 3.

The pageant will be conducted in connection with a fashion parade to be staged for the benefit of retail merchants of this city. Entries for the personality pageant are being received now.

HUDSON STRAIT REPORT STUDIED

Parliament Told Navigation Safe For at Least Four Months Yearly

Ottawa, April 26.—Hudson Strait will be safe for navigation for at least four months in the year. The report of the Hudson Strait Expedition of 1927-28, tabled in the House of Commons yesterday, gives the probable period as from the middle of July to the middle of November.

In his report, N. B. McLean, officer in charge, says in part: "Taking July 18 as opening date for the Strait, and November 18, when ice was first reported at Nottingham in 1927, as the closing date, we get a season of 120 days or practically four months, during which commercial vessels could have navigated with safety and without the assistance of icebreakers."

"A further indefinite period would be added," he continues, "with the use of icebreakers." Some doubt is expressed in the report whether two years' observations are sufficient on which to base any accurate statement on the length of the navigation season.

TEMPERATURE REPORTS

The extremes of temperature are given as 18 degrees Fahrenheit below zero at Nottingham in January and 50 degrees above zero in July at Wakeham Bay. Fog was noted in thirty-nine days and on fourteen of these it was dense. Many icebergs were seen. They drifted down through Davis Strait, where they were carried West along the North shore by the current and eventually met the easterly current on the South shore, which took them into the Atlantic.

Three direction stations in addition to those at Cape Hope, Advance and Nottingham Island are recommended, and two icebreakers, one based at Port Churchill and the other at a suitable harbor in the Strait.

"The knowledge that an icebreaker is available is necessary," the report states. "It will give confidence to masters, owners and shipping interests generally." Other recommendations deal with charting the strait and providing fuel bases.

LADIES—TO-MORROW Is Your LAST CHANCE to Obtain Of Spring's Choicest Creations For the Price of

Plus Only One Dollar

SEVEN FULL DAYS have been devoted to this great event for the double reason that we wanted to make one real big clean up to enable us to bring our new stock forward and—specially—we wanted all Victoria and its suburbs, environs and contributing districts to have full time and opportunity to take advantage of this sensational event.

Budget Your Income Take 3 Months To Pay

To repeat what we have been telling you all week: Buy one garment—Coat, Suit, Dress or Ensemble—at its regular ordinary price—$9.75, $15.75, $25 or whatever it may be—then pay one dollar more and pick yourself another garment—not necessarily of the same sort—of the same value.

Thus you can get a Coat and Dress, a Dress and Ensemble, a Suit and Frock or any similar dual combination at just one dollar more than you would pay for one garment alone. There are absolutely no strings on this. We're losing it—heavily—believe us, we know it—but we've got to move the stock. Herman's inflexible policy is to clear up, not only from season to season, but from month to month and week to week.

DON'T FORGET! TO-MORROW LAST DAY!

HERMAN'S

735 YATES

SATURDAY NIGHT sees the close-down on this 2 for 1 Sale—absolutely and positively—and this is to give you fair warning to that effect. All those who have not yet attended this great function should hurry and should also jog their friends' memory. Procrastination may be fatal. Don't be among the foolish virgins—be up-to-date and don't be late. Bargains there are that will repay your visit from whatever distance you come.

Open a Charge Account Pay in 12 Payments

Although we're sacrificing heavily—practically making you a present of one garment for every one you buy—we are not modifying our terms or changing our method of business. It is only that we must keep the stock moving that makes us take these drastic measures—raise money. There's nothing like that with Herman's. Consequently we put our 12-pay charging system at your service and ask you to avail yourselves of it to the fullest extent. Budget the hand that washes the other rest is easy. Our terms give you three full months in which to pay—without interest or carrying charges of any description.

U.S. Golfers Take Lead In Ryder Cup Matches

Defeat British Stars By Single Point In Thrilling Foursomes

Victory of Walter Hagen and John Golden Over Charles Whitcombe and Henry Cotton Gives United States Margin of Victory; Abe Mitchell and Fred Robson Hang Up Only British Victory, Defeating Gene Sarazen and Ed. Dudley; Johnny Farrell and Joe Turnesa Finish All Square With Charles Whitcombe and Archie Compston; Singles To-morrow.

Moortown, Eng., April 26.—The United States professional golfers took a one-point advantage over the British players in the foursomes of the Ryder Cup play to-day, winning two matches, halving one and losing one. The advantage was not decided until the final foursome returned a one-up victory for Walter Hagen and John Golden over Ernest Whitcombe and Henry Cotton.

The Americans will enter the singles matches to-morrow leading 2½ points to 1½.

Leo Diegel and Al Espinosa placed the United States team ahead by winning their match to score the first point, only to have the British level it when Abe Mitchell and Fred Robson defeated Gene Sarazen and Ed. Dudley, 2 and 1.

Johnny Farrell and Joe Turnesa finished all square with Charles Whitcombe and Archie Compston and the first day's advantage then rested on the closely contested match between Hagen and Golden on one side and Ernest Whitcombe and Henry Cotton on the other.

Eight singles matches will be played to-morrow with one point to be gained by a victory or half a point in a halved match.

More than 10,000 fans watched the matches. At the end of the first eighteen holes, Diegel and Espinosa were seven up on George Duncan and Aubrey Boomer.

Walter Hagen and John Golden were two up on Ernest Whitcombe and Henry Cotton and Johnny Farrell and Joe Turnesa, had an advantage of one hole up on Charles Whitcombe and Archie Compston. Gene Sarazen and Ed. Dudley were all square with Abe Mitchell and Fred Robson.

The sensational and well-co-ordinated play of Diegel and Espinosa featured the morning round.

PLAY GREAT GOLF

They played practically perfect golf. Farrell and Turnesa were two down in the early stages of their match and were not able to draw even until the tenth. They lost the eleventh, but with three strokes in a row, two of them birdies, took a two-hole lead which the British reduced to one when Turnesa missed a putt before the big crowd at the home green.

HARDEST FIGHT
Sarazen and Dudley had the hardest fight of the morning. Mitchell missed a two-foot putt on which he was half stymied at the eighteenth to lose a one-hole lead.

The fourth match was closely contested all the way. Hagen turned the tide in favor of the Americans at the seventeenth when he holed a chip shot and the Americans added another at the home hole when Cotton found a bunker with his second.

The figures reveal the tenaciousness of the match between Sarazen-Dudley and Mitchell and Robson over the first eighteen holes of the long thirty-six hole route.

TEAMS MEET IN JACKSON CUP FINAL

Victoria Wests and Victoria City Battle For Soccer Honors To-morrow

Both Teams Will Be Weakened; Junior Championship Match Is Postponed

To decide the holder of the Jackson Cup the Victoria West and Victoria City, First Division clubs, will meet to-morrow afternoon at the Royal Athletic Park. The game will start at 3.15 o'clock, and one of the best crowds of the season is expected as these clubs always put up a bitter struggle.

Both teams will be below their usual strength owing to the absence of several players. The City will be without Cameron, their regular right winger, who is under suspension, and also McEwen, their left half-back. Their places will be taken by Martin and Tommy Smith. The Wests will be without the services of Surtree, their centre-forward, who is in Vancouver. Dr. Poyntz, manager of the green shirt, has been unable to decide on his lineup, but he stated to-day he would field a strong team for the match.

The Victoria City team will be as follows: Bridges, Marston, Tuckwell, Stoffer, Preston, Martin, E. Bisset, D. Bisset, Burns, Glancy and Smith.

The junior championship game scheduled to-morrow afternoon at Beacon Hill, between James Island and Esquimalt, has been postponed until Friday, May 4, according to an announcement made this morning by W. H. Headley, secretary of the junior association.

The opening contest, which attracted a capacity crowd to the new Crescent Heights high school gymnasium, Thursday night, resulted in 31-23 for the coast girls. Calgary was leading by 9-8 at the end of the initial period, while the Meralomas had an 18-8 edge at half-time.

The Leafs' Prize

By Jimmy Thompson

Fred Bedore, a find of scout Knotty Lee, has turned out to be the best third sacker in the International League. The acquisition of this speedy baseman was a fine piece of management from the Toronto Leafs, and he should do a good deal towards helping the team get the pennant this year.

Manager O'Neill's great difficulty has been that he had one of the poorest crop of rookies to work with that have been seen in the Leafs' training camp for many seasons. If they had all been Bedores he would be on easy street, but they were not, and the hitting strength of the team has still to be improved, if the Leafs are to be in championship class, according to the critics.

The infield looks much the same as last year with the exception of Sweeney at the first sack, but anything may happen in the outfield, if the hitting of the team does not improve.

UPSETS SEEN IN PLAY FOR GOLF TITLE

Mrs. Philbrick and Mrs. Parry Reach Finals For Colwood Ladies' Championship

Former Stages Comeback to Beat Mrs. Wilding; Mrs. Parry Defeats Mrs. Allen

Two mild upsets featured play yesterday in the semi-finals of the Colwood ladies club championship.

Mrs. Philbrick came through to a fine victory by 4 and 3 over Mrs. Wilding, defending champion, while Mrs. Parry defeated Mrs. Allen, heavy favorite to lift the crown, one up. The two winners play to-day in the finals.

Displaying great fighting spirit, Mrs. Philbrick won a hard-fought match from Mrs. Wilding. At the fourth hole Mrs. Wilding was three up and playing fine golf. At the turn Mrs. Wilding was still two up, but on the tenth she faltered, losing the next five holes and the match.

Mrs. Parry displayed some of the best golf of her career to win from Mrs. Allen. Gaining the fourth hole, Mrs. Parry was always up, being two holes in the lead at the end of the first nine. At the fourteenth she increased her lead to three up, but Mrs. Allen won the fifteenth and sixteenth to cut the lead to one up. However, Mrs. Parry won the match by gaining halves on the next two holes.

In the first flight Mrs. Mortill and Mrs. Bennett won their way into the finals, while Mrs. C. Wilson and Mrs. Staples will battle for the honors in the second flight. Mrs. Crowe won the championship of the third flight by her victory over Mrs. Lawson at the nineteenth hole.

The results follow:

Mrs. Parry won from Mrs. Allen, 1 up.

3,000-Mile Motorcycle Trip Costs Victoria Boys About Seven Cents a Mile

"If you're thinking of making a half per cent and even then were paying too much," he said.

Tanned like a life guard, Hodgson might well have been mistaken for an Indian, says an account of the journey made by the youth and his companion, J. H. Sutherland, also of Victoria, in the Mall and Empire of Toronto.

Hodgson was the pilot of the open-cylinder Indian motorcycle which the boys rode on the long journey, including a jaunt through the Mojave Desert.

"Judging from experience," says the Toronto item, "Sutherland had the more comfortable experience, for he is less tanned and not so much affected by the trip. At night they slept in tourist cabins, but on several occasions wrapped themselves in blankets and slept under the stars. But it was not so good," admitted Sutherland, "We only did it for a few nights."

"On the first two days out of Victoria punctures came thick and fast, and most of the time was spent in stopping and fixing on patches. They finally bought a new tire and were not bothered with punctures after that."

CHANGING MONEY
"Asked as to the biggest difficulty they encountered on the way," Sutherland said that the exchange on Canadian money was the greatest trouble on the trip. "We got them down to two and a half per cent and even then were paying too much," he said.

"The entire trip cost the young adventurers about $210. Part of the trip across the Mojave Desert was made in the car of a friend who picked them up and advised them to ship the machine on ahead."

"The car was as bad as the cycle," said Sutherland. "What I want now is sleep," and in this sentiment his friend heartily agreed."

The two youths left Victoria on March 22 and took sixteen days to cover the 3,000 miles of the journey. An interesting feature is the cost of the trip, $210, which means about seven cents a mile.

SALO CUTS DOWN GAVUZZI'S LEAD

"Flying Cop" Slices Nearly Hour Off Elapsed Time in Sixty-mile Lap

Sullivan, Mo., April 25.—Buckling cold head winds that swept the Missouri farm country, Johnny Salo, the "Flying Cop" of Passaic, N.J., was first to finish the long grind of sixty-one miles from Maplewood, Mo., to Sullivan, Mo., yesterday, in the twenty-sixth lap of C. C. Pyle's bunion derby. He covered the distance in 8:42.10, and cut the lead of Peter Gavuzzi, bearded Italian of Southampton, England, by almost a full hour. Gavuzzi was fourth yesterday in 9:39.25.

Paul Simpson of Burlington, N.C., was second in 9:11.15, and Giusto Umek of Italy, was third in 9:23.10. Pat Harrison, whose home is in Sullivan, was fifth and was given a great ovation by the crowds that waited in the rain to greet him. A heavy rain fell on the runners all day.

Salo now trails Gavuzzi by 2:41.24 hours, while Ed Gardner of Seattle, who is fifth, is behind Salo by 3:30.33 hours.

Dr. A. Pugh, president of the Hillcrest Tennis Club, last night announced that three cinder courts would be open for play this week-end. The courts are reported to be in excellent condition.

A few more members will be admitted into the club this year. Those desiring to join the organization are advised to communicate with J. Kent-Fawkes, 874 Dunsmuir Road, as soon as possible, in order to ensure their membership.

Bobby Jones on Golf

The matter of body motion in putting has always interested me. I remember that when I first began to think about how to play golf I was told that putting should be done solely with the wrist, that the arms and the body should never move. Obviously that conception of the stroke could not survive the test of actual trial, for, although the three and four-footers might be handled by a flick of the wrist, the longer putts required some assistance from the forearms. In order to provide enough force without interrupting the smooth, rhythmic motion.

Discussing with Grantland Rice my ideas of putting, I said that I believed that good putting required some body motion. Relaxed muscles being the keys to the situation, there was more likelihood of easy freedom if the knees, hips and shoulders were allowed a little motion as the club passed back and forth. Grant soon after sought out Walter Hagen to learn what he thought about it. It was Walter's opinion that the body, as the foundation of a very delicate stroke requiring great accuracy, should remain perfectly still.

Whatever motion may take place in making a putt, if not extraordinary, is so very slight that it is difficult for the eye to detect. It is not important because of any force which it exerts as a factor in the stroke, and whether or not the motion actually takes place at all makes very little difference. The important thing is the conception which the player has in mind as he addresses the ball, and it is the instructor's task to provide his pupil with a definite condition which he should create before playing the shot. The player cannot see his own mistakes, but he can be made to sense his motions just as the instructor senses his own.

STILL BODY LIKELY TO APPEAR RIGHT

From this angle it is easy to understand why it is a mistake to advise a person to keep his body still when putting. In making sure that the body will not move or turn, there is a certain amount of rigidity set up which defeats the prime necessity—relaxation. It is possible to be quite still and at the same time relaxed, but it is not possible to hold oneself quite still and at the same time relax. The very thought of preventing motion causes stiffness.

In the same way, the player should not be told that his body should move. Whatever motion there is should be permitted, rather than forced. This is my conception of perfect relaxation: The first essential motion is that of the arms and hands; if the motion of the arms is sufficient to cause a movement of the body, then the body should move, and will move unless it sets up a resistance of its own.

DO NOT CONSCIOUSLY PRODUCE BODY MOVEMENT

So, after all, Hagen and I may both

"SKI-BOAT" IS NEWEST ADDITION TO SPEEDCRAFT

Snow no longer is necessary to skiing. Water will do perfectly. For above you see a "ski-boat," something nautilically new, which will be entered in future outboard motorboat competitions. The inventor, Sydney Breeze, is pictured as he piloted the speedy craft up the Hudson River. A system of hydrofoils, or small planes, lifts the hull of the boat completely out of the water at high speeds, as is demonstrated here.

be right. Certainly I will agree that no body motion should be consciously and wilfully produced, and I believe he will agree that if the putt requires a stroke long enough to suggest a movement of the hips or shoulders it should not be resisted. The attitude of the player towards body motion should be entirely negative and he may be conscious of it only after it has taken place. But he should never set himself against it. Rather in the interests of timing and rhythm it should be encouraged by a perfect willingness to move upon the slightest impulse.

The rarest virtue among even top rank players is the ability to stroke smoothly and unhesitatingly a putt of eight or ten feet when important issues hang in the balance. I have seen numbers of strokes wasted and matches lost by a too great tenseness at such a moment. It is then that relaxation is most needed and a sense of perfectly mobile balance should be attained.

LAUGHS from the DIAMOND

BY BILLY EVANG

Leo Durocher of the New York Yankees, aside from proving himself one of the best utility infielders in the majors last season, also won for himself the title of "premier jockey."

In baseball, a "jockey" is a player, usually a bench warmer, who rides or ridicules the opposing team through the medium of words, seldom complimentary. Durocher was outstanding last season in juggling the king's English to suit his purpose.

They say that in the 1928 world series between the Yankees and the Cardinals, Durocher's jockeying upset the National League champions as much, if not more, than the combined pitching of Hoyt and Phipps and the great slugging of Ruth and Gehrig.

Throughout the 1928 season, Durocher was the ace in the hole of the Yankees any time it was desirable that some rival player should be placed on the "pan." Durocher didn't confine his line of chatter entirely to the opposition, often selecting the umpire as the "goal."

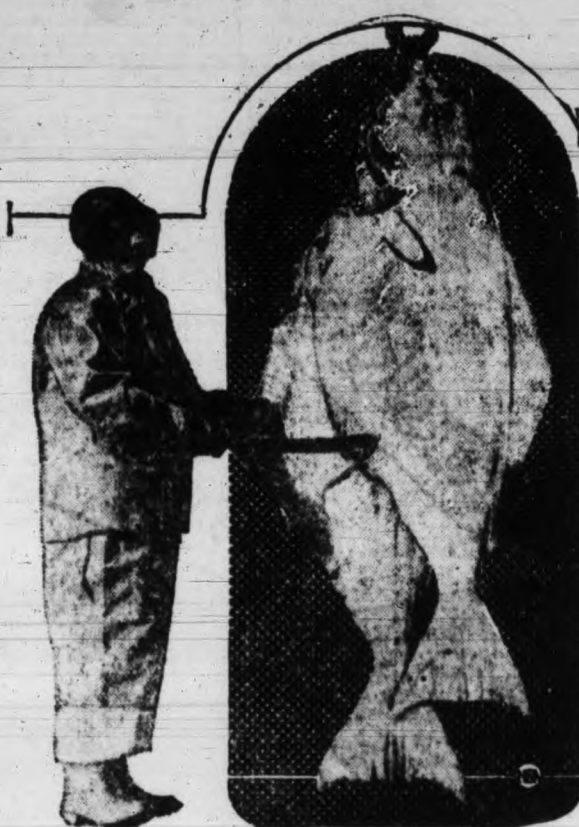

Ernest Ormsby, one of the best arbiters in the majors, gets a great kick out of telling how Durocher more than fussed him in a game at Detroit last Summer.

Pothergill, the heavyweight outfielder of the Tigers, was sent into the game as a substitute. When he appeared for the first time at the plate, Umpire Ormsby found himself hurriedly calling time as someone from the Yankee bench yelled:

"Get that batting order right, Mr. Umpire!"

Stopping the game, Ormsby scanned his batting order carefully, only to find that Pothergill was the correct batter. Resuming the game, he again heard the Yankee infielder shouting:

"Get that batting order right. Someone should be called out."

Again Ormsby inspected the batting order as given him by George Moriarty, manager of the Tigers, and once more it showed Pothergill as the proper batsman.

"I've heard enough from that bench," said Ormsby, pointing in the direction of the Yankee dugout. "Pothergill is the proper batter and no one should be declared out."

"I still insist you are wrong," came the same voice from the Yankee bench. Of course, it was Durocher. "There are two men at bat now and one of them should be called out."

That got a laugh from everybody, including Ormsby, when it was apparent Durocher was "riling" Pothergill because of the 100 or more pounds of excess weight he was carrying.

Date Set For Western Canada Cricket Tourney

Regina, April 26.—The week of August 5 has been reserved for the staging in Regina of the annual western Canada cricket tournament for the Dingwall trophy, at present held by British Columbia. This was the decision arrived at last evening when members of the local branch of the Western Canada Cricket Association gathered in conference.

British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba will again be represented.

Helen Hicks, young golf sensation, says she is not going to participate in the British women's tournament this Summer.

Message From Hoover Is Read In London

London, April 26.—A message from President Herbert Hoover was read last night at the ninth annual reunion dinner of British official missions to the United States by Ray Atherton, the United States Charge d'Affaires here.

"The President sends his very cordial greetings to this dinner," he said. "He knew many of you personally during the strenuous days of the war when the United States was preparing to take its part, and is particularly glad you are so finely continuing the important work of maintaining and strengthening Anglo-American understanding."

The Marquis of Reading, who presided, paid a tribute to Brig-General Charles G. Dawes for his services to the world in the difficult problem of reparations and assured him a hearty welcome to Great Britain awaited his arrival to take up his post as Ambassador.

LOTS SECURED BY GOVERNMENT FOR EXTENSIONS

Property Purchased For Future Expansion of Parliament Buildings

At a price reported to be $125,000 the Provincial Government has purchased lots facing Government Square, embracing those facing Government Street from Elliott to Superior Streets, and those on the south side of Superior Street from the Government printing office to Menzies Street, with the exception of the south 'st corner of Menzies and Superior Streets.

The purchase is to provide room that may be needed for the extension of offices and to prevent the erection of any building that might mar the general effect of the Parliament Buildings and its lawns.

No immediate plans to use the lots have been made, and it is claimed that the rentals received from the property as now occupied will take care of interest and sinking fund charges. At some time, however, the temporary wooden buildings that house the Government offices on Government and Superior Streets will be removed, and the Drill Hall now used by the Provincial Police will be torn down to make way for buildings in conformity with the general architectural scheme of the Parliament Buildings.

The property acquired by the Government consists of 321 feet and 9 inches on Government Street and 125 feet and 83 inches on Elliott and 140 feet on Superior Street. It is comprised of Lots 1, 2, 3 and 4 on Government Street owned by Mrs. F. White Howles of Sausalito, Cal.; Lots 41, 42 and 43 on Government Street owned by B. Porter and Sons; lots 11 and 12 on Elliott Street owned by Raymond Estates; lots 20 and 21 on Superior Street owned by G. S. McTavish, also lots 1, 2, 3, 10, 11, 12, 1, 728, 8, 7, 8 and 9 fronting on Superior Street.

The deal which is reported to be the largest in property of this nature in the history of the city was negotiated by Fred Landsberg, it is understood.

time in Europe before returning to Auckland.

One of the cleverest surgeons of Australia, Sir Carrick is suffering from overwork and is making this voyage as a recuperative holiday.

G. L. Harding of Cardiff, who has been identified with the Imperial Civil Service for over forty years, arrived here by the Niagara after visiting Australia and New Zealand.

Mr. Harding's last trip to Australia was three years ago and he noticed a tremendous change since his previous tour.

Adelaide, South Australia, is the most cultured city in the Antipodes, he says.

Sydney, according to Mr. Harding, is becoming Americanized.

In discussing notable projects in the British Dominions of the South Seas, Mr. Harding stated that the piers of the great Sydney bridge were now in position. There is being completed in Auckland at the present time a large train terminal for the New Zealand railways.

W. J. Blake of Detroit boarded the Niagara at Honolulu. He represents the Burroughs Adding Machine Company and has been on a business trip of twenty-two months, which took him all over Australia and New Zealand.

MORE PAY FOR SAANICH MEN

Council Votes General Wage Increase to Road Maintenance Workers

All road work employees of Saanich will receive a daily wage increase of twenty-five cents. Road foremen will be advanced to $4.75 daily, to include use of their cars, and the laborers will be advanced to $4 per day.

The motion was proposed by Councilors Watson and Paterson and passed unanimously.

MEN WANT MORE

Declaring unreasonable proposals to delay until September consideration of increases in wages, a delegation of ward foremen had asked the council to reconsider its decision made last week. G. Willerton and R. Nimmo expressed the views of the foremen.

Reeve Crouch said it would be unfair to raise the foremen unless the day laborers also were given increased pay. "The fact that foremen qualify for superannuation should be given weight. I have sympathy for you but even more for the day laborers," he said.

FERTILIZERS REQUIRE MUCH CAREFUL USE

How and When to Apply
Them Is Vital Question in Spring

The plant food that is in the soil is rendered available for the plant mainly by bacteria, and these work best when the soil is well tilled, as by digging and hoeing. In course of time the plant food in the soil gets less, and this will happen sooner or later depending on the depth of the original fertile soil. Now, when this supply of plant food begins to lessen it is necessary to give the bacteria fresh raw material with which to manufacture a further supply. This is done by applying fertilizer of some kind or another.

Fertilizers may be divided into two classes, organic and inorganic. The former includes farmyard manure, meat refuse, bone and decomposed vegetable matter of all kinds, while the latter includes all artificial manures embracing a great variety of chemicals and a number of byproducts of manufacturing. The principal elements supplied by inorganic manures are phosphates, potash and nitrogen.

ORGANIC FERTILIZERS
To give the best treatment to any garden soil it is necessary to add to it from time to time some organic manure, and while the action of these organic substances will be to a large extent, mechanical that is to say to help light soil to hold the moisture and to make heavy soil easily worked and more porous, the manure will also give a percentage of phosphates, potash and nitrogen.

Ordinary farmyard manure may be applied at the rate of three or four wheelbarrow loads to the square rod. Poultry manure is very strong and forty pounds to the square rod is an ample dressing. Stable manure varies very much in value but from three to six wheelbarrow loads to the square rod will be found to be about right.

TIME OF APPLICATION
With inorganic manures the best practice is to apply them as surface dressing at the time that the plants require them except in the case of slow-acting manure such as basic slag and bone. If the quickly soluble manures are applied in the Fall of the year a great deal of their virtue will be wasted by being washed into the subsoil.

Phosphates are supplied by the mixing of ammonia, potash and lime with phosphoric acid and are generally obtained in the form of phosphate of ammonia, phosphate of potash, superphosphate and basic slag. The chief use of phosphoric manure is to assist the ripening of the tissues of the plant and the production of flowers.

Potash is necessary in any soil where it is desired to produce high-class flowers and fruit and is also a great asset for such plants as produce starch and sugar. Where potash is lacking it

(Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle)

WHAT'S A LITTLE THING LIKE THAT?

When Jerry Andrews, Oakland, Cal., flier, was 1,200 feet above San Francisco Bay, the motor dropped out of his plane. The craft went into one spin after another, and Jerry was just pulling the plane out of the third one when the water came up and hit it. Jerry waded ashore, unhurt.

A newspaper advertisement ran as follows:—
"As the gentleman who found a purse with money in the High Street was recognized, he is requested to forward it to the address of the loser."
A few days afterwards the reply was:—
"The 'recognized' gentleman who picked up a purse in the High Street requests the loser to call at his house."

Conductor (to passenger who has brought in a heavy sack with him):
"Fourpence, please."
Passenger: "What for? I thought the fare was tuppence."
Conductor: "So it is, but there's another tuppence for the sack."
Passenger (tossing sack): "Oh! is there? Sandy, you'll better come out and pay yer air fare."

"Can you think of anything more utterly useless than silk stockings?" asked the intensely practical man.
"Not unless it's the things that stand on street corners watching them," answered his wife.—Judge.

It was the evening after the night before.
"How did you find yourself this morning?" asked one man, participant of another.
"Easily," was the reply. "I just looked under the table and there I was."

Doctor: There is nothing the matter with you but tiredness—you just need rest, plenty of rest.

JUDGES PLACE FLOWER AWARDS

Thousands of Exhibits in Record Show Opening at Willows To-day

Thousands of daffodils, tulips and other spring flowers furnished a riot of color for the opening of the Spring Garden Show of the Vancouver Island Horticultural Association, in the Agricultural Building at the Willows to-day.

From 12 p.m. until late this afternoon the eight judges, J. Fyfe-Smith, G. C. Hyland Barnes, Prof. F. E. Buck, W. J. Sheppard, G. R. Moore, A. Nicholls, Fred Saunders and W. Hamlin, were busy judging the different displays. Keen competition was shown in all classes.

Horticulturists of the city and surrounding districts who saw the exhibition acclaimed it the largest and best ever staged in Victoria. Over 500 growers have individual displays in the show, while twelve of the city's horticultural societies have group exhibitions on display.

The official opening took place at 3 p.m. when His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor performed the ceremonies. Artistic arrangement of flowers had added greatly to the beauty of the show this year. New designs of exhibiting and novel manners of presenting the flowers to their best advantage are being used.

Although the hall in which the entries are being shown is far larger than any previously used by the Horticultural Association, it is crowded to the limit with displays.

Later in the afternoon patrons of the show will be entertained with dancing by the pupils of the Hillside Dancing Academy. These exhibitions will be given both to-day and tomorrow at 4 p.m. and 8 p.m.

Although prize winners are expected to be selected before this evening awards will not be distributed until Saturday night at 9 o'clock. His Worship the Mayor and Mrs. Anson will make the presentations.

ANZAC DAY MARKED ON BOARD SHIP

steaming off Cape Maitland, Commander T. V. Hill, slowed up his ship and prepared the stage for the impressive ceremony.

It occupied but a few minutes but left a deep impression upon the minds of all those who participated in it. As the ship ploughed along and with the sun glinting on an untroubled sea, the passengers stood with bared heads in silence for those gallant Australians who did not return. The flag was dipped and the ship then proceeded at full speed for its port.

Major-General Browne was very modest about the part he played in the Anzac Day celebration and declined to discuss it with newspapermen.

NOT UNDER ORDERS NOW

He has seen forty-five years of service with the British Army and is now retired. "I have been ordered to go everywhere during my life and now I can go where I like," the General said in explaining his present trip around the world.

When Mrs. Browne, he plans to see something of Canada en route to London.

Complaints of nuisance, caused by garbage in the inner wards of Saanich, vigorously voiced at last night's session of the municipal council. Councillor Paterson said half his time was devoted to settling complaints. The power of the council to authorize exclusive or other privileges to private garbage collectors will be inquired into by the council.

For Swollen Joints

Most remedies fail, but Joint-Ease succeeds. It is a powerful, yet gentle, remedy for joint trouble, only, whether in ankle, knee, hip, elbow, shoulder, finger or spine—whether rheumatic or not. It washes up stiff, inflamed, painful, creaky joints so quickly you'll be astonished. "Two seconds" rubbing and away it goes through skin and flesh right down to the bone and ligaments—that's why it succeeds. Ask any reliable druggist.

Classification as a secondary highway of the East Saanich Road, from thence to Telegraph Bay was described as a "wonderful place providing ten or twelve miles of good riding. All that is necessary is the improvement of ditches and roadside banks. It was necessary, however, to secure backing for the carrying out of the plan. Municipalities are now working on it."

INTEREST INCREASING

Major Spurgin spoke of the increasing interest in horse riding in the United States and pointed out the great value for such bridge paths as a public asset.

Although he was very much in favor of trail riding, such as is obtainable at Sooke and other points, his proposal was for bridge paths near the city where it was practically impossible to put in trails.

The health value and sporting appeal of riding was touched upon by the speaker, who urged the elimination of gymnastics here for the staging of a trail riding, such as is obtainable at Sooke and other points, his proposal was for bridge paths near the city where it was practically impossible to put in trails.

He paid tribute to Lieutenant D. B. Carley for his continued work in the interests of horse riding here.

James Robillard, of the Belvedere Hotel at Sooke, spoke of the development of riding at Sooke and invited the Real Estate Board to visit the hotel for luncheon.

The two greatest obstacles he had found in the way of riding there were the objections to the distance of Sooke from the city and the lack of knowledge as to what development had taken place there.

He pointed out that Sooke was only an hour's ride from the city and gave a glowing description of the wonderful scenic trails in the Sooke area.

The value of having bridge paths along the main lines of travel was stressed by Mr. Robillard, who referred to the publicity gained through the automobile drivers who saw the horsemen in action.

David Leeming also spoke in support of the movement, mentioning that the publicity bureau had already given considerable attention to it.

BANNING OF WILD FLOWER SALE URGED

J. C. Bridgman Suggests Real Estate Board Take Matter in Hand

Protest against the sale of wild flowers by the public was voiced by J. C. Bridgman in a letter read at the meeting of the Victoria Real Estate Board to-day.

"I am convinced that letters to the paper and moral persuasion will not prevent people gathering these flowers for sale," his letter read. "I recently saw a whole stall in the market devoted to the sale of wild flowers. And yesterday the board was informed at its luncheon meeting to-day, Major W. C. Holmes, president of the Real Estate Board, pointed out the value which the support of the Automobile Club would have in securing the attention of the Government."

The move of the Real Estate Board of Victoria to-day for the preservation of timber along the highways of the Province has received the full endorsement of the Automobile Club of British Columbia, the board was informed at its luncheon meeting to-day. Major W. C. Holmes, president of the Real Estate Board, pointed out the value which the support of the Automobile Club would have in securing the attention of the Government.

Keeping the spectators in fits of laughter the fantastic wild animals and clowns of Bingham Bros. Circus scored a decided hit at the opening performance of the troupe in the Y.M.C.A. last night.

Al Comber, the Bouncing Baby, proved one of the features of the evening. Gymnastic tricks by the young acrobat proved exceptionally popular with the audience.

Benny McMillan and his clowns filled in the intervals with their humorous antics and kept up a merry chain of amusement.

Fine athletic posing by Nelson Allen drew the admiration of many. Painted in gilt against a black background, Allen presented excellent interpretations of classic and athletic statues.

Allan Stewart and Harry Robson, the high-bar artists, furnished plenty of thrills with their stunts. Throughout their act the boys performed difficult tricks that required a great deal of skill.

Weary Willie, the whistling tramp, gained instant favor with the spectators in his turn, while Edgar Kidd, as Prof. Strabismus, created amazement with his sleight-of-hand tricks and "black magic."

Dorothy Glover, adept young pupil of Mrs. William's Russian Ballet School, was greeted with a great ovation at the close of her part in the "Three Generations of Tumblers" act.

From every aspect the carnival was a great success. The second performance will no doubt draw many more people to the Y.M.C.A. to-night at 8.15 o'clock.

At the order of Il Duce, engineers have labored for months to drain the large lake and bring to light the craft which have lain for centuries on the bottom.

HOOPER BUST

This bust of President Hoover, made in 1920 by Jo Davidson, noted sculptor, is being shown for the first time at the exhibition of the National Sculpture Society this month in San Francisco. Mr. Hoover autographed the work.

FIRST GLIMPSE OF OLD ROMAN GALLEY

It was a proud moment for Premier Mussolini and Italian archaeologists as this flag was placed upon a bit of wood projecting from the waters of Lake Nemi—historic "Diana's Mirror"—in Italy. For here you see success crowning their efforts to recover from the lake the luxurious galleys of Emperor Caligula of ancient Rome. At the order of Il Duce, engineers have labored for months to drain the large lake and bring to light the craft which have lain for centuries on the bottom.

MANY ENJOY "Y" CIRCUS

Clowns, Animals, Acrobatic Stunts and Novelties Furnish Fun

Keeping the spectators in fits of laughter the fantastic wild animals and clowns of Bingham Bros. Circus scored a decided hit at the opening performance of the troupe in the Y.M.C.A. last night.

Al Comber, the Bouncing Baby, proved one of the features of the evening. Gymnastic tricks by the young acrobat proved exceptionally popular with the audience.

Benny McMillan and his clowns filled in the intervals with their humorous antics and kept up a merry chain of amusement.

Fine athletic posing by Nelson Allen drew the admiration of many. Painted in gilt against a black background, Allen presented excellent interpretations of classic and athletic statues.

Allan Stewart and Harry Robson, the high-bar artists, furnished plenty of thrills with their stunts. Throughout their act the boys performed difficult tricks that required a great deal of skill.

Weary Willie, the whistling tramp, gained instant favor with the spectators in his turn, while Edgar Kidd, as Prof. Strabismus, created amazement with his sleight-of-hand tricks and "black magic."

Dorothy Glover, adept young pupil of Mrs. William's Russian Ballet School, was greeted with a great ovation at the close of her part in the "Three Generations of Tumblers" act.

From every aspect the carnival was a great success. The second performance will no doubt draw many more people to the Y.M.C.A. to-night at 8.15 o'clock.

EX-NAVY MEN WILL SETTLE IN DOMINION

Party of 105 Now at Sea Aboard Liner Regina En Route to Prairie Farms

Winnipeg, April 26.—Among the numerous groups of new settlers coming to Canada on board liners now heading for Quebec and Montreal is one special party of former naval men and their families. This group, consisting of twenty families and numbering 105 souls, is on board the White Star liner Regina and is coming forward under the auspices of the British Dominion Immigration Society, of which Robert Culver is manager.

On arrival at Quebec these families will proceed by Canadian National Railways to Montreal and Toronto, from which cities they will be distributed to employment which is awaiting them.

The society which directs ex-navy men to Canada and Australia has been operating to this country for forty years. Men, who are directed to the Dominion, are elected particularly because of their good character, their record in the navy being of great importance. Those men are generally of the skilled labor and the craftsmen type, while some are capable of farm work and represent a high type of settler. A number of other families will come to the Dominion during this season and their placement will be assisted by the colonization department of the Canadian National Railways.

HYDRO-ELECTRIC MENACE TO FISH EDITOR STATES

Pacific Fisherman Warns Against Extinction of Salmon Spawning Grounds

Vancouver Island Power Proposals Subject of Editorial Criticism

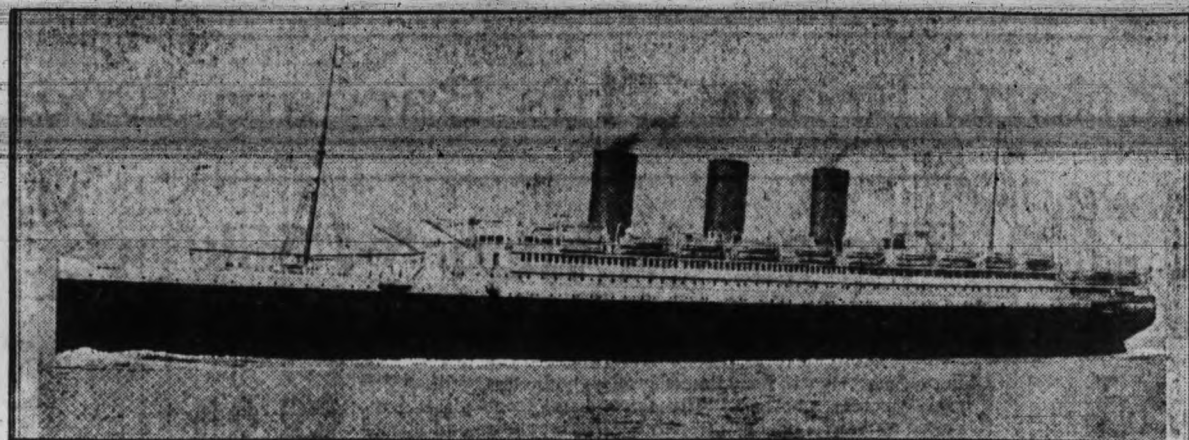

Writing editorially in Pacific Fisherman for April, Stedman H. Gray draws attention to the warnings issued on many occasions on limitation of salmon spawning areas through over-development of hydro-electric plants. The article charges that the upper waters of the Fraser River are threatened, and refers to recent proposals as to developments at Stamp Falls on Vancouver Island. The article follows:

"Warnings repeatedly given by this journal for some years past, as to the danger from power developments to the entire salmon industry, are proving well founded. Bit by bit the power interests have been encroaching upon the spawning areas, and in the aggregate the destruction of salmon resources by their dams has already been of formidable proportions. To cite only a few important instances, the Baker River has been virtually ruined as a Puget Sound spawning stream, and the great Sockeye area of the Nimpkish, in British Columbia, has been turned over to the power exploiters. The Priest Rapids project, which would practically destroy the Columbia River fisheries, is still in the offing; and an even more imminent peril has arisen in the proposed development at Rock Island.

"In British Columbia the menace is advancing rapidly. A new project at Stamp Falls on Vancouver Island would stamp out the Sockeye run of Barclay Sound, which the Dominion fisheries service has made important progress in building up. There are prospects of an early effort to harness the Meziadin Falls in the Nass River to furnish power for mines and railways, which would seriously affect the run of that great stream. Even some upper tributaries of the Fraser are threatened. Fishery operators throughout Washington, Oregon and British Columbia are at last becoming aware that their future depends upon their effective opposition to these encroachments.

"The fishery interests do not wish to impede legitimate progress, but they do maintain that the spawning streams should not be obstructed except under giant liner of the French line which is now in drydock in Europe receiving repairs after grounding twice in ten days. When leaving New York early this month she was on the mud banks at the entrance to the harbor for twenty-four hours. She released herself, however, but when in the English Channel grounded on the rocks of the famous Eddystone Light. Both accidents were blamed to the dense fog. She will resume schedule shortly, sailing from Havre and Plymouth for New York on May 5.

Empress Of France Will Arrive Early To-morrow Morning

From ports in China, Japan and the Philippine Islands, the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of France is expected to arrive at the William Head quarantine station to-morrow morning about 5 o'clock, according to latest information received in the city by L. D. Chatham, local agent, from Capt. S. Robinson, R.N.R., commander of the big two stacker.

The time that the liner will berth at the Rithet piers will depend upon the length of medical examination which will be given at William Head. On account of the large passenger list of more than 800, it is expected that the examination will take an unusual length of time.

urgent public necessity. No such necessity exists at present. The Northwest is blessed with abundant water power sites on streams which are too precipitous for the salmon, or for other reasons are not frequented by them. Such sources would provide all water power needed in the Northwest for many years to come, and they should be fully developed before the salmon spawning streams are invaded. It would cost a little more, perhaps, but this does not justify the destruction of the fishery resources."

Weather Delays Pacific Trader; Here On Monday

Delayed by bad weather on the Atlantic, the Furness Pacific motor liner Pacific Trader will not dock here until Monday. King Brothers, local agents, were advised this morning. The Trader left Los Angeles yesterday morning at 6 o'clock, and will come direct to this port, eliminating the call at San Francisco. The ship was originally scheduled to dock here to-morrow.

For this port there are 100 tons of general cargo aboard from ports in the United Kingdom. Six passengers will come north from California, four for Vancouver and two for Victoria, one of them en route to the United States. The local agents will receive wireless advice over the weekend from the master of the vessel announcing exact time of arrival here on Monday.

NO DANGER NOW FROM SMALLPOX ABOARD STEAMER

London, April 26 (Canadian Press Cable).—Any danger of a spread of smallpox infection from the cases which developed on the liner Tuscania which recently arrived from India may now be said to be at an end, according to an official statement issued last night by the Ministry of Health.

Figures for the Tuscania show that of 1,180 passengers and crew there were forty-five cases of which seven have died to date, including one death at Marseilles. The last London case took sick April 7 and the fourteen-day incubation period has now passed.

Lineman Dies As Result Of Accident

New Westminster, April 26.—David Purdy of Vancouver, a lineman of the British Columbia Electric Railway Company, died in the Royal Columbian Hospital here shortly after being admitted at 5 p.m. yesterday as the result of burns and injuries received when he came in contact with a live wire on a pole on which he was working at the foot of Gilley Avenue on Marine Drive.

Nearly 500 brands of tobacco are now being grown in the British Empire.

N.Y.K. CAPTAINS CHANGE COMMANDS

Former Master of Yokohama Maru Now in Command of Crack Liner Tenyo Maru

With 150 tons of general cargo, including twenty bales of raw silk and ten cases of manufactured goods, the N.Y.K. liner Yokohama Maru is now en route to this port, having left Yokohama on April 20. She is expected on Friday morning, May 3.

There are fifty-one passengers in both classes aboard the Yokohama this trip. Of these, seventeen, nine first class and eight third, will leave the liner at this port, while twenty-four, four cabin and twenty third, will go on to Seattle. There is a heavy general cargo aboard for Seattle discharge.

A. H. Hebb, local agent for the N.Y.K., was advised this morning that Capt. Y. Kawashima, formerly master of the Yokohama Maru, was recently appointed to the command of the crack liner Tenyo Maru, plying between California and the Orient by way of Honolulu. Capt. K. Yoshida, who was last here aboard the Kaga Maru about a year ago, will have charge of the Yokohama this trip.

NIAGARA ARRIVES FROM AUSTRALIA WITH LARGE LIST

Delayed by strong head winds and fog coming down the Strait from Cape Flattery, it was 11 o'clock last night before the Pacific Steamship Company's coastal liner Emma Alexander docked at the Rithet piers from San Diego, Los Angeles and San Francisco. She left for Seattle at 1 o'clock this morning.

WHITNEY LETTER

By Branson, Brown & Co. Ltd.

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited Wire)
New York, April 26.—Whitney of the Wall Street Financial Bureau says today:

"For this week, which is drawing to close, you were advised to expect, first, high call money as preparations were made for a month-end disbursement; second, a reactionary tendency in the industrial leaders with advances in industrial specialties, and third, strength in both the rail and public utilities groups. This is approximately what has been witnessed and having more or less used the week a proper distance below the market's record, necessary technical correction has been made so that with an excellent chance of success, a general advance can be inaugurated for the purpose of breaking through that top. I expect this advance, which should start to-day, to embrace practically all groups, quite apparently undervalued, which should return best results from a speculative standpoint.

COMMENT
"In the copper groups, I believe the reaction is completed and that there will be three main moves all approximately equally good at current prices, viz. American Smelting and Refining, Anaconda and Kennecott. In the utilities, in order of preference, would concentrate on Consolidated Gas, Electric Power and Light, and National Power and Light.

"Among the market leaders of the industrial group, consider particularly General Electric, Allied Chemical, Texas Gulf Sulphur and an issue which is about to take its place as a market leader, viz. Corn Products Refining. This last mentioned is an issue which you are going to hear as much about for the balance of this year as you have heard about American Can in the past two years.

"In the motor group, which is more or less of a questionable group at the present time, would concentrate on Yellow Truck and the two body builders, viz. Murray and Briggs, in both of which major advances are in the making.

"In the rail group and among the high-priced issues, I believe that Canadian Pacific is the real outstanding bargain, with N.Y. Central running second.

"In the medium priced rails, look with greatest favor on Mo. Pacific and Erie. National Distillers, in which a perfectly rotten market is always maintained, will end up as one of the sensations of the year. The preferred stock, as expected, was returned yesterday to $7 basis. Coincident with first quarter earnings report which showed net profit after interest and depreciation of approximately $230,000 as compared with a net loss of approximately $92,000 in first quarter of last year.

"Among specialties, as called, favor American Locomotive, Associated Dry Goods, Interoceanic, Marine Preferred and Celotex."

CIGARETTES SHOW ENORMOUS GAIN

New York, April 26.—Popularity of cigarette smoking continues to grow.

Nearly a quarter of a billion more were put out by manufacturers in March this year than in March last year.

Official figures of the trade show that production of small cigarettes in March totalled 8,689,610,113. The total for March last year was 8,170,160,373.

The average for March works out at about seventy cigarettes a month for every man, woman and child in the country.

Authorities attribute the enormous increase to the fact that men, women, college and even school girls have all taken to smoking cigarettes. In some districts the women's consumption of cigarettes now exceeds that of the men.

N.Y. Market Gossip

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Ltd.)
New York, April 26.—Buying of the oil shares was of a confident nature. Many think that the conservation plans will be relaxed. This coupled with rumors indicating that merger plans affecting many of the leading petroleum units were in the process of formation undoubtedly influenced many buyers to add to their present holdings. The first step in this direction, the subject of the Marland Oil Co. had concluded negotiations to absorb Continental Oil.

Business throughout the country continues to run on an even keel. Perhaps the most fundamental factor at the present time is the improvement shown in agricultural conditions. Employment figures continue to record material improvement, while our foreign trade is considered highly satisfactory. Each month during the current year is said to have brought a marked increase in exports. This has been largely in manufacturing goods, rather than in raw materials. Total exports for the first quarter of last year, for example, amounted to $214,000,000 over the same period last year.

The Richfield Co. has increased its production of oil through the completion of three wells at Signal Hill.

Texas Pacific Coal and Oil reports March quarter net income $424,141, against $394,080 in 1928 quarter.

Average price for first quarter of 1929 was $1.39, compared with $1.39 for first quarter of the preceding year. Average price for first quarter of 1929 was $1.39, compared with $1.39 for first quarter of the preceding year.

"LOVE IS OF THE VALLEY"

By DAVID LYALL

"It is not a question of goodness but of justice and equity. My father and sister some years ago but I want you to know that I have never taken a penny from my father since I left his house, nor is there anything accruing to me from his estate."

Again her eyes softened and a little sigh that was half a sob quivered from her lips.

"I spoke to my mother about Linnor this morning, and she wishes to leave it. She wants to sell it—but—"

"But what?" asked Beatrice interested at last.

"I don't want her to sell it."

"You like Linnor, then?"

"I have a private reason for not wishing to dispose of it just now. I think I am going to persuade her that all money accruing from the estate should be devoted to the purpose you and I have at heart."

"It would help—it would help tremendously but you make me jealous. My poor little effort and ambition!" Her eyes filled with tears that had a bitter sting in them. Brodie took a step nearer to her, his deep eyes very fixed and earnest.

"Can't you give me the benefit both of the doubt and the opportunity. My debt is greater than yours, because I am the son of the man who betrayed the trust of these innocent and helpless people; your father was not even an accessory."

Your mother thinks he was; she spoke very bitterly about it that dreadful day I went with my father to Linnor. He could not forget her words. I think myself that they broke his heart."

There was a moment's profound silence.

I wonder if you know just how I feel about what you are doing? It may be noble, judged from your standpoint, but from mine it is intolerable. Won't you give it up and go home and wait for better things?"

"No," she answered very clearly, "because without individual effort there can be no better things; and please don't be so scornful of my new occupation."

"Yes," she added with a ghost of a smile. "What will you say when I tell you that Madame Theodore has made a snug fortune of twenty thousand pounds in about twenty years?"

"Has she indeed?"

"Yes, and I will tell you, too, though no one else in the whole world knows excepting me two, she is going to hand over this splendid concern to me as it stands, without charging a penny for goodwill, just as soon as I have learned the business. I shall begin to earn big money, big money, do you hear, Mr. Brodie, every penny of which will go to the purpose we are discussing."

She clasped her hands feverishly, her eyes shone with a restless eager light, her whole little young body seemed tense with feeling and resolve. It filled Brodie with nothing but a sadness and revolt too great to be uttered.

"You make me ashamed, and I don't know what to say, but at least let me hear that you will let me share in this just ambition. Together we might do big things, and in time clear the old name by paying twenty shillings in the pound instead of two."

Beatrice kept her eyes down bent, and appeared to be struggling with herself. She could not very well tell him candidly that she had registered a vow to be done with the Brodies, and all connected with them. This was an entirely new kind of Brodie, but she did not yield easily. Brodie and an outraged sense of unfairness still soured the milk of human kindness in her, so that she could not meet him on equal ground.

"It sounds wonderful, but I'm afraid I am not buoyed on the wings of too much hope," she said as she rose fastening her gloves. "Now I really must go; thank you very much for talking the trouble to explain certain things to me, more especially about yourself. His face flushed slightly. "I am glad to hear even a kind word from your lips. Since four, no, since half-past four, I have been waiting for you to stand with me."

"How strange! I can do so little for any one, and I do not have many friends. I don't make them easily, you see."

"You are permitting me to walk part of the way home with you, I hope?"

"It is not the usual leave, but a special one, and no advantage must be taken. The probability is that I shall be leaving England again under a fortnight."

"It is a long way to come for a fortnight," she murmured, beginning to move towards the door.

"I have found it worth while, and it was certainly urgently necessary. When can I see you again?"

"It is impossible to say," Beatrice answered, and some stranger flittered at her heart gave a shivering coldness to her voice. "I am a busy woman now, and no doubt your stay will be so short, occupied as your stay is to be so short."

SPRING ushers in a Commercial New Year in Canada. More land is ready for crop planting... newly discovered ore-bodies provide for mining on a record scale... wood from Canada's vast forests is required in greater quantity than ever before... gear is being overhauled for extensive fishing operations... building may surpass that of any previous year... manufacturing and transportation facilities are being greatly enlarged.

Two other forces are required to make this Canada's most productive year—favourable weather and ample money in the form of bank credit. Weather must be left to nature, but you and your fellow citizens can increase the supply of credit by depositing money in the banks.

THE TINYMITES

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The Goofygoon flew through the air, and really didn't seem to care if all the clouds broke out with rain and flooded everything. He felt that he could fly real fast till every peaky cloud was past. To him such things as thunder showers just didn't mean a thing.

The Tinymites, however, stood as close together as they could within the little cabin that was on the big bird's back. Said Goofygoon, "Just where are we bound? And, do you think we're safe and sound. A puff of wind may come along and give us all a whack."

"Now, don't you worry," said the bird. "I guess that you have never heard that I'm a wondrous guardian. I'll see that you're all right. By flying fast I soon will land upon the ground where I can stand. It won't be long until the dark clouds all are out of sight."

So on he flew. The wind grew stiff. The cabin rocked with bang and buff. It seemed the thing would fall apart. Of course this scared the bunch. "Whoever planned this trip up here?" whined Carry. "I am filled with fear. We should have stayed right on the ground. This was a crazy hunch."

"Be quiet," cried the Goofygoon. "I'm watching closely over you. I still am certain I can reach the ground before it's night. If we once land, and land with ease, you all can hide by monstrous trees, and then the rain won't touch you and you'll surely be all right."

Just then there came a sudden snap, and bits of rope began to flap. The cabin broke loose. Oh, my! cried Clowny with a frown. The next thing that the Tinymites knew, the cabin left the Goofygoon, and mid the wind that blew so strong, began to topple down.

Uncle Wiggily in the Movies

Copyright, 1929, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

By HOWARD R. GARIS

"Hey!" called the Bob Cat as he stopped at the den of the Fussy Fox one morning and put his head into the cave where the other Bad Chap lived. "Hey! Come on out!"

Truly, the Bob Cat might have been more polite about it. He might have said: "Good morning, Mr. Fox! Will you kindly step out here a moment?" But that wasn't the Bob Cat's way.

And the Fox might have asked: "What may I have the pleasure of doing for you this morning, Mr. Bob Cat?" But that wasn't the way of the Fox either.

However, the Bad Chap with the silly little tail slunk around outside the den of the Fox and waited until that fellow, with his big, dusting brush of a tail, came creeping out.

"Are you hungry, Mr. Fox?" asked the Bob Cat.

"I certainly am!" snarled the Fox. "But I don't see that you have anything to eat."

"No," purred the Bob Cat. "I haven't. But I came to tell you how you could catch Uncle Wiggily and then there would be something to eat for both of us."

"Oh," Uncle Wiggily snarled the Fox. "I'm sick of hearing about him. He makes me tired!"

"He makes me tired, too!" admitted the Bob Cat. "I'm tired from running after him trying to catch him. And I haven't yet done it."

"Neither have I," barked the Fox. "Well, I'm going to tell you, now, how to do it," said the Bob Cat.

"How?" asked the Fox.

"Listen," said the Bob Cat. "Uncle Wiggily is going to the moving pictures to-night. He is going to take his wife and Nurse Jane. I heard them talking about it just now as I slunk past the hollow stump bungalow. This will be our chance."

"I don't quite see how," went on the Fox. "I would like a bit of rabbit, but I don't."

"Stupid!" interrupted the Bob Cat. "Don't you see? It is dark in the movies. Even in the new, talkie movies, there will be there in the dark with his wife and Nurse Jane. What is easier than for you and me to go to the movies also, get a seat near Uncle Wiggily and when it is very dark we'll grab him, carry him out, bring him here to your den and we'll eat the rest."

"Ha! Ha! Yes! I can guess the rest," chuckled the Fox. "That isn't a bad plan. We'll try it. Yes, we'll go to the movies and catch Uncle Wiggily! A very good trick!"

"Mind you!—I want my share!" snarled the Bob Cat. "I haven't a big dusting brush of a tail as you have, but I want my share just the same."

Q BOATS TO BE LECTURE TOPIC

Admiral Gordon Campbell Will Address Gathering Here May 8

Announcement of the lecture "How the British Q Boats Fought the German Submarines," by Admiral Gordon Campbell, V.C., D.S.O., at the Royal Victoria Theatre, in the afternoon and evening of Wednesday, May 8, has been received with enthusiasm, and the district council of the Canadian Legion, under whose auspices the lecture will be delivered, have received many messages of commendation for arranging to bring the gallant sailor to Victoria.

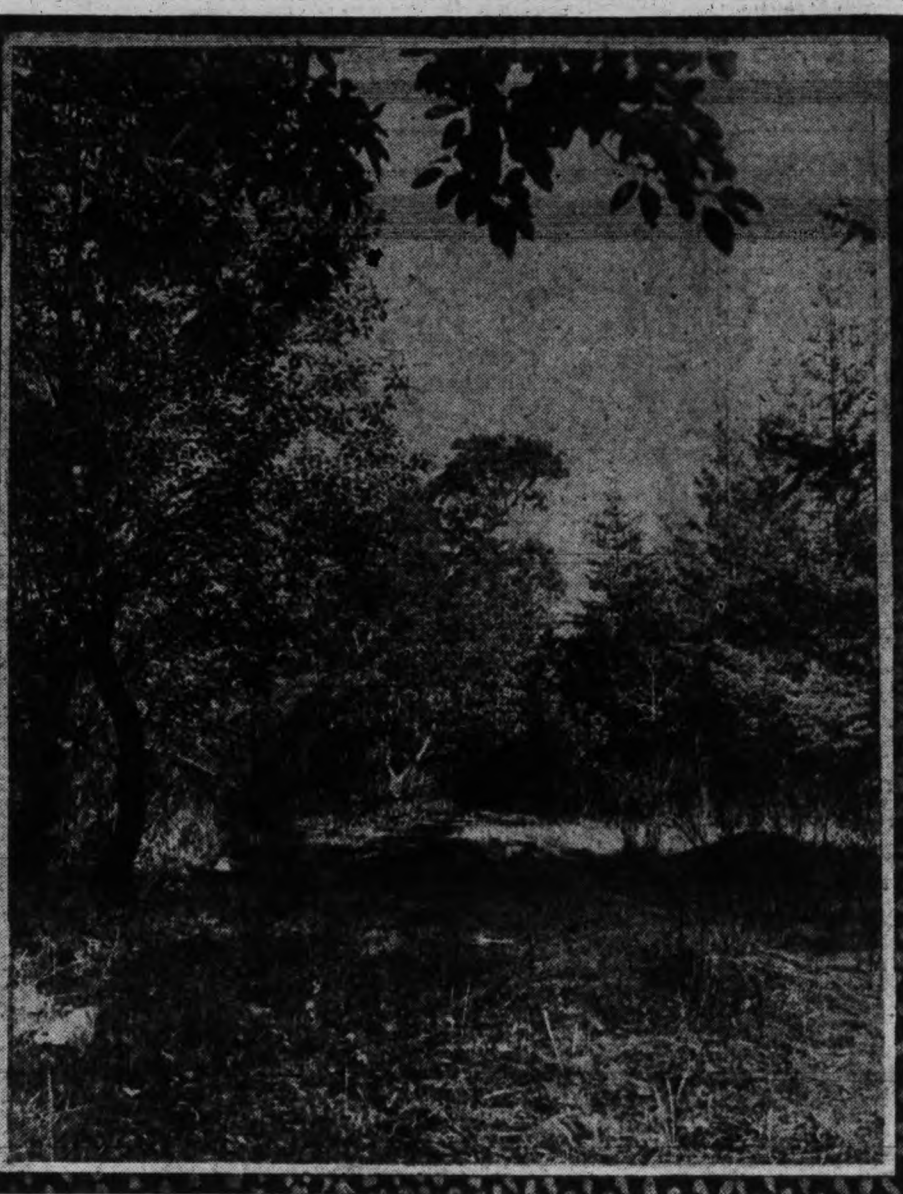

Admiral Campbell has told the thrilling story of the part played by the mystery ships to packed houses wherever he has appeared in Canada and the United States. As the greatest of the Q Boat commanders, promoted to Rear-Admiral at the early age of forty-three, known as the mystery man of the British navy whose exploits struck terror into the hearts of submarine crews, he is particularly fitted to relate this gripping story.

Illustrated by actual photographs of sinking submarines, Admiral Campbell describes a chapter of naval history which reveals acts of daring and unparalleled courage which astonished the world. In telling the story the lecturer lives again in the fight of the past and grips the imagination of his audience from first to last. Decorations were showered upon Admiral Campbell and the officers and men of the Q Boats he commanded and the special praise and thanks which King George extended to them were well and truly earned.

STOCKING OF SALMON

Ottawa, April 26.—There was released the enormous total of 40,000,000 sock-eye salmon fingerlings during 1928 in the Fraser River and its tributaries as a measure to relieve a situation which resulted from the depletion of the salmon runs, according to a statement tabled by Hon. P. J. A. Gardin, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, in the House of Commons yesterday. The statement was in answer to a question by J. A. Fraser, Conservative, Carleton Place.

Queenswood to Be High-class Home Area

This is one of the fascinating wooded scenes of the 200-acre tract on the east side of Cadboro Bay and facing Haro Strait, which has been acquired and is being developed by R. H. Swinerton and associates as a new exclusive residential area for Victoria. The main drive through the district has been constructed and is now open to motorists.

200-Acre Tract Taken For New Home Demands

Cadboro Bay Property Developed For Most Exclusive Residential District

Realty interest was stimulated to-day by the announcement from R. H. Swinerton of Swinerton and Musgrave of the launching of an exclusive residential subdivision of 200 acres, on the other side of Cadboro Bay from the Uplands and looking across Haro Strait to Mount Baker.

"The rapid rate at which high-class property is now disappearing from the market as a result of the flood of new residences that are now going up, has resulted in the demand for additional residential areas for Victoria," Mr. Swinerton said.

"This beautifully wooded 200-acre tract, which has been subdivided and is being placed on the market, has been named Queenswood and will be a second Uplands. It is the last tract available around Victoria of high-grade residential waterfront property. It is within the four and one-half-mile circle of the centre of Victoria, and only fifteen to twenty minutes by motor."

"The waterfront is divided into parcels, varying from 2½ to 4½ acres, and the interior into subdivisions of from one to five acres. The whole area is covered by building restrictions to make it permanently a high-class residential district."

The main road through the subdivision, called Queenswood Drive, follows the waterfront. It is already graded and hard surfaced. The road leads in from the end of the Telegraph Bay Road and comes out on Arbutus Road and makes a revealing automobile drive.

The Queenswood division was known as the James property in the early days. On its north it adjoins the country estates of Fred B. Pemberton, R. H. E. Ker and J. E. Wilson of Victoria, Mrs. R. O. Tatlow and Dr. A. P. Proctor of Vancouver.

The B.C. Electric is putting in the electric power and light service to cover the whole district.

Mr. Swinerton said that Girdwood and Company were associated with his own firm in the marketing of the subdivision.

"Rollo's Wild Oat" Met With Wonderful Reception When Presented in Vancouver

A distinguished visitor to Vancouver who saw the performance of "Rollo's Wild Oat" at the University Theatre sent the following letter:

"As a visitor to your city who was present at a performance of the Players' Club, I should like to congratulate them on their excellent production and acting and on their exceedingly happy choice in selecting 'Rollo's Wild Oat' for this year's play. Some slight experience of the O.U.D.S. at Oxford and of amateur theatricals in England enables me to appreciate the high standard of Friday night's play, and the competent stage craft of the production. It was a pleasure to Miss Ferguson and Mr. Evans for their happy combination of careful detail with breadth of treatment, and for the way in which they communicated their spirit to their fellow-actors. The play itself was well chosen for a university dramatic society. It combines wit and good humor with an underlying subtlety."

This warm appreciation was shared by all in the four large audiences that saw the play in Vancouver. It is generally admitted that "Rollo's Wild Oat" is one of the most finished pieces of work that this talented club has offered in the fourteen years of its history. Not only are Mr. Evans, Miss Hood and Miss Ferguson unusually gifted in their interpretations of their roles, but the other nine members of the cast lend them adequate support. This comedy will be presented at the Royal Victoria on Wednesday, May 1, with the patronage of His Honor R. H. Swinerton, V.C., D.S.O., Minister of Education.

The Victoria Kiwanis Club sponsors the performance.

"TOBY" LEITCH AS TOWN MAYOR IN COLISEUM PLAY

With a story of intrigue and love entitled "The Game," the Coliseum Players, under the direction of Raymond "Toby" Leitch, have drawn large audiences to the Coliseum Theatre all this week. To-morrow there will be three stage performances, one during the afternoon show which will commence at 1:30 o'clock and two during the evening, at 7:30 and 10 o'clock.

"The Game" has a deep plot which holds the continued interest of the audience. In his own dry way Mr. Leitch makes his audiences laugh with his humorous utterances and his droll manner. He is cast as the mayor of a small town in Nevada, running for a senator's seat. He is a popular man, although he runs a gambling hall in the town. But he is straight and honest and many times has helped persons in distress. The good of the town is with him, and he is elected by a sweeping majority. Others in the cast this week who give good performance in their respective roles are Miss Ada Daniels, Miss Esther Todd, Miss Leone Webber, Leon Cluff, Forrest Taylor, Louis Bagley and Paul Wallace. Besides having a part in the play, Mr. Wallace renders Irving Berlin's popular ballad, "Because I Love You."

GLENN TRYON HAS HUMOROUS ROLE IN "GATE CRASHER"

The funniest theatrical scenes ever filmed are an important part of Glenn Tryon's "The Gate Crasher," which is now being shown at the Playhouse Theatre. In these scenes Tryon is surprised on the stage when the curtain goes up and not being a member of the troupe is forced to go through with an act so as not to spoil the show. Patsy Ruth Miller is featured with Tryon, while the supporting cast includes Beth Harol, T. Roy Barnes, Fred Malatesta, Tiny Sandford, Claude Payton, Russell Powell and Al Smith. William Craft directed.

"SAL OF SINGAPORE" IS SCREEN FEATURE AT THE COLUMBIA

The greatest tragedy in life is that of an inarticulate heart, which feels emotion but cannot express it, and is frequently impelled toward unpleasant bravado to cover its inadequacy in this respect, thinks Phyllis Haver.

The Pathe star plays the role of such a misunderstood creature of deep feeling but limited vocabulary in her new Pathe picture, "Sal of Singapore," being shown at the Columbia Theatre. Alan Hale in the leading role opposite Miss Haver is seen as another victim of wordlessness. Howard Higgin directed "Sal of Singapore," the cast of which includes Fred Kohler, Dan Wolheim, Noble Johnson, Jules Cowles and Pat Harmon.

MOVIE BUTLER FINDS A VOICE IN TALKIE FILMS

"Dinner is served, madam!" Both the guests in the picture and the audience in the theatre now hear this summons for talking films have given the movie butler a voice. No longer does he speak in subtitles; nowadays he lets his austere voice ring out from the silver sheet unashamed.

Motion picture audiences heard the cinematic butler speak for the first time in the Paramount all-talking film, "Interference," and now they can hear him speak again in the same film organization's 100-per cent talking production, "The Doctor's Secret," based on Sir James M. Barrie's famous play, "Half an Hour," which is at the Dominion Theatre.

Finch-Smiles, who has "bottled" his way through several silent pictures is the man who makes the butler audible in "The Doctor's Secret," in which Ruth Chatterton, H. B. Warner, John Loder and Robert Edison enact principal roles.

ACID STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Sufferers From Indigestion CUT THIS OUT

"Stomach trouble, dyspepsia, indigestion, sourness, gas, heartburn, food fermentation, etc., are caused nine times in ten by chronic acid stomach," says a well known authority.

Burning hydrochloric acid develops in the stomach at an alarming rate. The acid irritates and inflames the delicate stomach lining and often leads to gastric or stomach ulcers. Don't dose an acid stomach with poison or artificial digestants that only give temporary relief by driving the sour, fermenting food out of the stomach into the intestines.

Instead, neutralize or sweeten your acid stomach after meals with a little Bismarck and not only will the pain vanish but your meals will digest easily. There is nothing better than Bismarck to sweeten and settle an acid stomach. Your stomach acts and feels fine in just a few minutes. Bismarck can be obtained from any reliable druggist in either powder or tablet form. It is safe, reliable, easy and pleasant to use, is not a laxative and is not at all expensive. (Adv.)

BAGGAGE-SMASHING ROMEO IS CENTRE OF CAPITOL FILM

No better story than "Strong Boy" could have been selected by Fox Films to aid Victor McLaglen in making inroads into public favor. This photograph is now at the Capitol Theatre and is the last word in comedy. The story centres around a big baggage-smashing, beautiful romeo whose shyness in the presence of the gentler sex gets him into more than one truncheon of difficulties.

Leatrice Joy serves as the object of McLaglen's screen affection and carves one more notch in her record of cinema triumphs. Farrell MacDonald, David Torrence, Eulalie Jensen, Dolores Johnson, Kent Sanderson, Slim Summerville, Clyde Cook, Tom Wilson and others are cast in strong roles.
